PRICE FIVE CENTS

The War Today

By GUY RHOADES
COLLAPSE

Germany's attempt to enlist the active aid of the Petain-Laval administration apparently fell flat today as a Vichy spokesman said his government would fight no one. Simultaneously came reports of increased activity in France of adherents to the Free French movement of Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

Indication German efforts to buy French help with an offer of a cheap peace had failed came swiftly after the efforts were advertised in Berlin. At the same time it was disclosed in London, Royal Air Force activity had affected 20 per cent of Germany's wartime production.

DISAFFECTION

Indications of mounting disaffection among French citizens came in an announcement that 75 "Communists" had been arrested in the Marseille vicinity and charged with disseminating De Gaulle propaganda.

The declaration France would not fight Britain came from Foreign Minister Paul Baudouin, while another Foreign Office spokesman declared his country would undertake "no military, naval nor aerial action against England."

MYSTERY

This statement followed a mysterious meeting "somewhere in France" between Hitler and Vice-Premier Laval, who was reported yesterday to be leaning towards some sort of Franco-German collaboration.

Neutral observers were impressed by statements of British cabinet ministers that the time was approaching when Great Britain would take the offensive against Germany although none of them hinted how near they believed that time to be.

Others saw indications of growing German weakness in the approach to the Vichy government. As one observer put it: "You don't look for a partner when business is good."

EVACUATION

A hint of the damage and distress the R.A.F. is causing in Berlin was seen in the announcement of plans to send 75 special trainloads of children from the German capital to less-congested and safer areas.

London authorities said they had reliable information from neutral sources that Germany's transport system had suffered severely from British bombings, and that even Berlin's rapid transit service had been impaired.

$500,000 Daily Paid Canada's Soldiers

WINNIPEG (CP) — Total pay for recruits taking compulsory military training will amount to approximately $8,640,000 during the next year, Major J. Q. Gillan of the Royal Canadian Army Pay Corps, said here. Total pay of all Canadian troops amounted to nearly $500,000 a day.

Protests Bombing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States formally protested to Italy today against the bombing of American oil properties in neutral Saudi Arabia.

JAPANESE NEW SPOKESMAN — Shigenori Tashiro, former consul-general at Tientsin, has been named director of the Information Department of the Japanese government's Foreign Office.

Final Bulletins

Agree on Base

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frank Knox, United States Secretary of the Navy, said today an agreement had been reached with Great Britain and Canada on the location of an army-navy naval and air base on the southern shore of Newfoundland.

Quits CBC Board

OTTAWA (CP) — Alan B. Plaunt of Ottawa has resigned from the board of governors of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, he announced here this afternoon.

In announcing he had sent in his resignation Mr. Plaunt said: "As a public trustee I feel I cannot continue to accept responsibility for conditions for internal organization and management in which it is impossible for me to retain confidence."

He added that he had resigned in a "last effort" to emphasize the need for rectifying the situation.

Deserters Caught

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP) — Two American soldiers, Francis Cooper and Wallace C. Rhea, privates of the 10th Field Artillery at Fort Lewis, told police here that American army life included "peeling spuds for 28 days." So they hitch-hiked north, crossing the border without reporting. They tried to "trade" uniforms with two members of the Canadian Active Service Force in training here. They are held for deportation.

Envoys Complete Talks

ISTANBUL (AP) — The informal conference of the British envoys to Turkey, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria ended this evening. Sir Ronald Campbell, minister to Yugoslavia, planned to leave at once for Belgrade, while Sir Hugh Knatchbull-Hugessen, ambassador to Turkey, will return to Ankara. George Rendel, minister to Bulgaria, may remain here for a holiday.

Cortelyou, 78, Dead

HUNTINGTON, N.Y. (AP) — George Bruce Cortelyou Sr., 78, confidante of three presidents, holder of three cabinet posts, and outstanding United States financier, died here today.

He was stenographer, executive clerk, confidential clerk and secretary to three presidents—Grover Cleveland, William McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt—and under Roosevelt held the cabinet posts of Secretary of Labor and Commerce, Postmaster-General and Secretary of the Treasury.

Butter Profiteering?

VANCOUVER (CP) — Investigation of possible profiteering in increases in butter prices is urged by the executive council of the Housewives' League in a telegram dispatched to the Wartime Prices and Trade Board at Ottawa.

The meeting also decided it would conduct an investigation into prices of cigarette papers.

B.C. Bridge Collapses

WHITE ROCK, B.C. (CP) — A time-worn bridge over a gully two miles from here on the road to Crescent Beach collapsed today just after a gravel truck had passed over it.

Minesweeper Sunk

LONDON (CP) — The Admiralty announced tonight that the minesweeper Dundalk had been sunk by an enemy mine. The vessel was under the command of Lt.-Cmdr. F. A. I. Kirkpatrick.

CHINESE LAUNCH DRIVE ON JAPS

HONGKONG (AP) — A large Chinese army has launched a powerful offensive against the Japanese in Chekiang province and pushed northward after crossing the Chientang River, the Central News Agency (Chinese) reports.

Several points north of the river held by small Japanese garrisons were captured, the agency said. It described this drive as part of a sudden revival of fighting on many points.

Hanchow, capital of Chekiang, which has been held by the Japanese since December, 1937, is on the Chientang estuary only 100 miles southwest of Shanghai. The Japanese, reached this river early in the war, but have been unable to push far beyond it.

New Life . . . and Death . . . Amid the Blast of Bombs

War is not only death. Here, in a London hospital, nurse holds little Brenda Richard, who was born in a shelter during a raid. Police Constable Brooks, inset, helped deliver her before doctors arrived.

Death is a familiar sight in London, but air raid wardens greet each new death from Nazi bombs with grim faces, clenched fists. Here, body of air raid victim lies on a stretcher in a London street.

As Nazis poured bombs on London, strange freak left this steel elevator shaft, though listing, still intact, although nearby buildings were demolished.

Japanese Taking Census in Canada

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Japanese embassy spokesman said today his nation was taking a regular 10-year census of its citizens, including those in the United States and Canada and elsewhere abroad.

"It is the regular 10-year census taken of Japanese at home and abroad," he said. "It has no political significance at all." The spokesman explained the census, now going on, is the gathering of information on Japanese nationals as at October 1. He said the questions are similar to those of the Canadian census, being of a domestic nature and including such things as occupation, age, place of residence.

Makes Millions Fast, With God as Partner

CHICAGO (AP) — An industrialist who says his board chairman and majority stockholder is God, related today how he rose from bankruptcy to a millionaire's rating in 12 years.

"I am convinced that man can make his best living as well as his best life partnership with God," R. G. LeTourneau told an emergency conference of Christian business and professional men.

LeTourneau, who flew to Chicago in his own airplane, heads factories in Peoria, Georgia and California, employing 2,000 men in construction of road-building machinery.

"I had a little foundry back in the boom period that was doing a modest business," he recalled. "Then the depression flattened me out. I was bankrupt and several thousands in debt. In my extremity I turned to the Lord for guidance. I promised a part of my income for missions.

"I started going again on faith, not knowing how I would meet the payroll. It seemed I couldn't make both the payroll and the pledge for missions, but each time prayer opened the way.

"The LeTourneau Foundation now owns 67.5 per cent of the 450,000 shares in the company and uses the income for missionary and evangelistic purposes.

Last year, with the Lord as chairman of our board, we made $1,816,470, but that money didn't go for private profit. Nine-tenths of it was used in spreading the teachings of the chairman of our board."

He said the foundation was rated at $13,000,000 and the company's sales last year amounted to $7,737,325.

New Axis Squeeze Play

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Hitler and Franco, accompanied by their foreign ministers, met in a railway car at the Spanish-French border this afternoon.

Reports said the German and Spanish leaders held two conversations, beginning at 4.15 p.m. and 6.15 p.m. (8.15 and 10.15 a.m. P.S.T.) and were expected to meet again tonight.

Their meetings were attended by Foreign Ministers von Ribbentrop and Ramon Serrano Suner, it was said.

After the afternoon conversations, the Spanish party returned to its side of the border and the Germans to French territory for dinner.

Earlier reports indicated the meeting was taking place in the region of San Sebastian.

Talk of Big Moves Fed to Rumania

BUCHAREST (AP) — The Rumanian newspaper Universul printed on its front page in heavy black type today a Berlin dispatch which said the Axis powers now plan:

The entrance of Spain into the war immediately, with an attack, first on Gibraltar.

Military and naval action by Japan as a result of Britain's reopening of the Burma Road for war supplies to China.

Entrance of Vichy, France, into the war as a result of the November 5 election in the United States.

The dispatch asserted the Axis powers are determined to strike in all possible directions and with all possible means before the election "in order to give a real warning to America."

It was asserted that with Laval and Baudouin stood Navy Minister Admiral Jean Darlan.

On the other side were Gen. Maxime Weygand, now in Africa, and Gen. Charles Huntziger, one of the signers of the armistice terms, now in command of the French army. With the two generals were many cabinet members.

head for a new government headed by Laval.

Laval, however, has an ace in the hole, according to these sources—the influential French leaders who remained in Paris. They include Jacques Doriot, said to have consolidated his position with the Paris working class since the government fled the capital.

'Collaboration' Discussed

ROME (AP) — Hitler is reported in foreign circles here to have sounded out Vice-Premier Laval on a plan for a temporary settlement between the Axis powers and Vichy which would make them "collaborators" in the prosecution of the war.

Laval's authority would be expected to grow under the German plan, although Marshal Petain would remain as the government figurehead.

Gen. Ion Antonescu, Rumania's chief of state, has accepted an invitation of Premier Mussolini to visit Rome and is expected to come early in November, an authoritative source said today, as evidence of Rumania's attachment to the Axis.

Return of Cabinet To Paris Debated

BERLIN (AP) — Circles generally regarded as well informed voiced the opinion today that yesterday's conference between Hitler and Vice-Premier Pierre Laval of the Vichy government might result in bringing France closer to Axis policy and enable her government to return to Paris.

(Earlier claims from Berlin said events seemed to be shaping toward an attempt to join the surviving units of the French navy with the German and Italian fleets for a combined effort to smash Britain's seapower. The terms of the armistice concluded last June 24 between France and Germany provided the French navy should not be used against Britain.)

At present those opposed to such a step seem to be in the majority, for Marshal Petain is reported standing with the army and refusing to serve as a figure-

The negotiations were treated with the utmost reserve by the controlled Nazi press as only three Berlin morning newspapers printed the communiques, and none offered a word of comment.

Laval Returns To Paris

VICHY, France (AP) — Vice-Premier Pierre Laval, after a conference today with Marshal Philippe Petain, left tonight for Paris, where yesterday he conferred with Hitler.

A brief communique said Laval returned today to Vichy at "the end of an interview with Hitler," and added that he departed after his talk with Petain.

A government spokesman earlier had said Vichy will undertake "no military, naval or aerial action against England."

The statement was made in reply to reports Laval was discussing Vichy French aid for Germany in the war against Britain. "France will not declare war on England under any circumstances," he added.

(Here a paragraph was eliminated by the censor.)

French Foreign Minister Paul Baudouin said specifically there was no question of declaring war on Britain, and added there was no question either of France surrendering its fleet or aircraft to Britain.

Hitler Sees Risk In Balkan Drive

SOFIA, Bulgaria (CP) — Well-informed quarters expressed the opinion today that Hitler has not acted in the Balkans because he is unwilling to undertake a campaign which is not certain of quick success.

This opinion was based on information given by members of the entourage of Bernard Rust, German Minister of Education, at a party for Bulgarian officials last night. The Germans reportedly stressed the point that "Germany desires continued peace in the Balkans."

Japan Abrogates Treaty of 1911

Japan notified the United States, Great Britain and Soviet Russia today that she was abrogating—effective a year hence—an agreement for protection of fur-bearing seals, the Japanese Foreign Office at Tokyo announced.

It was to continue in force for 15 years and indefinitely thereafter until one of the contracting parties gave 12 months' notice of denunciation.

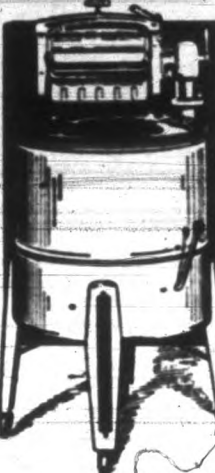

In brief, the four nations agreed to prohibit sealing activities by their citizens in the north Pacific Ocean and the seas of Bering, Kamchatka, Okhotsk and Japan for a number of years. They also agreed to prohibit use of their ports as bases for sealing operations and undertook to maintain a patrol in the waters frequented by the seal herd.

Victoria was the only port in Canada affected by the treaty. For over 30 years it had been the centre of the sealing industry on this coast, with the Victoria Sealing Company the largest operator. At one time 50 schooners sailed from this port.

At the time the treaty was signed the seal of the seal herd had fallen off tremendously and San Francisco, which had been the centre of the California sealing industry, had not sent a schooner to sea for some years. If the industry is revived, Victoria might once again become a centre. This port is now the home of the whaling fleet, which came into existence when the sealing industry began to fade at the turn of the century. Six whalers are stationed here and this year three of them operated off the Queen Charlotte Islands.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Japan's treaty to abrogate the treaty climaxed long-standing Japanese claims that seals were poisoning fisheries in Japanese waters. The U.S. Bureau of Fisheries states evidence showed seals from Alaska herds were not consuming waters off Japan.

Crerar Says Empire Can Win Decisively

Hitler's Greatest Need, Peace Treaty

OTTAWA (CP)—Major-Gen. H. D. G. Crerar said today Canadians face a difficult military problem, but he added his belief that "our determination and effective effort will be equal to it and that we shall contribute our full and powerful share to the overthrow of the evil forces which confront us."

The chief of the Canadian general staff said that given something approaching equality in numbers and armament, there is no reason to doubt that the Empire forces can meet and defeat the German armies "even more decisively, if that be possible," than they did 25 years ago.

But he warned his Ottawa Canadian Club audience that situations might arise in the future which would seem even more desperate or critical than those experienced in the past. "We should be wise to brace ourselves to the prospects of this war becoming a cat-and-mouse game in which no continent and few nations will be spared," Gen. Crerar said.

Greatest Gangster Making His Attempt

"The greatest gangster of all time is on the march. The usual initial gangster successes of cruel and determined might over human right are now being demonstrated in respect to nations and continents."

Then he added: "In spite of these, all human history tells us that right, coupled with the will to maintain it, shall, in the end, prevail."

Gen. Crerar said Canada must constantly strive to attain balance in her military development, and there were great difficulties.

"For instance, the enlistment of large numbers of eager men is more quickly done than the less obvious, more complicated, but equally essential action of gearing up industry to produce all the arms and equipment they need," he explained.

"At the present time, these components, unquestionably, are not balanced. We have a large active service force mobilized in this country. We have scores of thousands of officers and men in our reserve formations.

"But we have some distance to go before our supplies of armament and equipment can be brought up to the level of the requirements of war or existing fighting manpower."

2 Objectives Must Be Seen

"Our present efforts must therefore concentrate on two things. We must utilize to the full all the skill, ingenuity and facilities we now possess to advance the fundamental training of all ranks now in our army in the science and art of their profession."

"We must also intensify our efforts towards the complete provision of the armament required by those men before they are called upon to meet the enemy in battle."

"I have no doubt of the ability of the employers and employees in Canadian industry to meet this latter and essential requirement."

Gen. Crerar said he held the view—and he was not alone in doing so—that the major issue confronting Canada in particular and North America in general is "to win this war in Europe and so prevent any possibility of this continent finding itself in a definitely isolated and exposed situation."

"At the same time our direct defence must not be neglected," he continued, "and it is not being neglected."

Canada-U.S. Defence Moves

"It is being approached in the most effective manner possible, namely, by joint action on the part of the United States and Canada in respect to such problems as have a common bearing on the security of our respective frontiers."

Already the war had shown that an army such as the German army, with powerful armored formations and effective support from the air, cannot be adequately resisted or surely defeated by an army on the old man-power model of the first Great War.

"It follows," he said, "that Canadian forces of the future must be fully provided with mechanized power, which includes modern artillery and armored fighting vehicles and ample assistance from close-support aircraft."

Another lesson learned in the present war was that reliance on static defence and an army of defensive type is "inviting ignominious defeat," and does not provide the dynamic force required for victory.

"The failure of the Allies has been due to the lack of attacking power," he said.

Hitler's Great Need Now Peace Treaty

Hitler now "urgently needs and desires peace," Gen. Crerar said, but it would be dishonorable to the Allies and dangerous beyond words to the whole world. The German people had been promised peace with victory by the end of this year.

"It may be that within this period Hitler may find himself able to claim still further territorial conquests," he said, "but so long as the British Empire continues to fight there will be no peace."

"And so long as we press on with the strengthening of the Empire forces in the British Isles and other theatres of operations... it is evident that German prospects of world domination must diminish with each succeeding month."

Winter Depression Overclouds Germany

Certainty of another winter of war under worse economic conditions, with more hostile nations to hold down and with constant air raids might be expected to have a "profoundly depressing effect on the German population." However, it would be inviting disaster to assume that Hitler's "obvious failure" in the Battle of Britain permitted the slightest slackening in the Empire's war effort.

The Empire and its allies could not be assured of decisive victory unless they meet and defeat the German land forces in battle. Hitler's armies still had a superiority in numbers and a considerable superiority in equipment, but he could not utilize the advantage without similar domination of the seas and in the air.

Forced to Go Farther Afield

"I suggest that providing we maintain our superiority afloat and reach at least equality in the air, Hitler has exposed himself to conditions which will place him under greatly increasing disadvantages as regards operations on land," Gen. Crerar said.

Hitler had greatly extended his boundaries, and this strategic over-extension would increase rather than diminish. The German dictator had to continue searching, ever more distantly, for a decision. This was the reason for the commencement of operations in Northeast Africa, the chief responsibility for which falls on the unhappy and unwilling forces of Mussolini, and the obvious German intention of extending the war to, and through, the Balkans.

Fog Shuts Off Daylight Bombers

London Fights Off Earliest Night Raid

LONDON (CP)—Air raid sirens sounded the earliest night warning of the Battle of Britain tonight and the roar of anti-aircraft guns challenged the first Nazi planes as they drifted overhead on what appeared to be exploratory flights.

The day had been one of London fog, thickened by the outpourings of a million chimney pots, which blanketed German raiders as effectively as it had last night.

The planes which soared over the city tonight criss-crossed the sky. Above the deep roar of the anti-aircraft guns their bombs could be heard exploding at intervals. With every explosion the gunners seemed to quicken their firing.

Buildings in the city shook under the tremendous impact and—tearful—rattled on their shelves.

In spite of the dreary weather, it looked as if London was in for a hard night.

London had its second successive morning without an air raid, but shortly after noon an alarm was sounded. The "raiders passed" signal soon followed, without any German planes having reached the London area.

German planes were seen at intervals from dawn to noon over scattered towns of western England, however.

Isolated Attacks Only During Day

The Air Ministry and the Ministry of Home Security issued the following joint communique Wednesday night:

"Enemy air activity has today been confined to a few isolated attacks by single aircraft. Bombs were dropped by these aircraft on a town on the south coast and at two places in the London area."

"Slight damage only was done and there were no casualties except at one place in the London area where the number was very small."

Less Military Damage Than Expected

Ralph Ingersoll, editor of the 'New York newspaper PM,' said at a press conference today he had found on a tour of London's bombed areas less damage to obvious military targets than he had expected from the impression he had gathered in the United States.

He had found, however, more damage to nonmilitary objectives than he had thought would be the case.

The New York editor compared the complete freedom with which he was able to tour London and the country with the restrictions placed on newspapermen in Germany. He said PM's Berlin representative reported he was permitted to visit bombed places only when conducted.

More News of How 'Invasion' Smashed

Britons were cheered with the official news that a full month and a half of day and night bombing of German bases along a 2,000-mile front had smashed a concentrated German attempt to invade Britain.

First details of the German preparations to invade Britain simultaneously by sea and air were described by the air ministry news service in reports from pilots who carried out night after night, first observing and then bombing.

"Even now the story can only be told in part," the air ministry service said.

"Until lately it would have been extremely unwise to let the enemy know how much we know of his preparations and of the effect on them of R.A.F. attacks."

The German plans have been known since the first threat of an invasion, the air ministry service said.

"On September 5 a strong offensive against the enemy was begun on a large scale and, in numerous attacks that followed both by day and night, heavy damage was inflicted," it declared.

"From the first day that the enemy concentrated his forces in every available port and harbor, both large and small, aircraft of the R.A.F. carried out reconnaissance and, as a result, brought back valuable information."

"HUNDREDS OF BOATS" "There is little doubt," the Air Ministry said, that the R.A.F.'s "vigilance and harassing tactics greatly interfered with the enemy's plans" all the way from Narvik to Bordeaux.

Concentrations started in the early days of September when the first small units of German men and material gathered, but each succeeding day saw more and more imposing arrivals until "hundreds of barges and other war equipment were assembled at Antwerp, Calais, Dunkerque, Ostend, Newport and Havre."

Air observers reported many of the barges daily moving from one canal to another. Small warships were also moved near the barges, which are self-propelled, over 150 feet in length and each capable of carrying about two trainloads of men or materials.

Big Surprise At Cherbourg

In one phase of the attack the navy joined the R.A.F.—to the surprise of the Germans.

In an attack on Cherbourg a few days ago, German shore defences apparently mistook a naval bombardment for part of an air attack because the only answer to fire from the British ships was "marked intensification of anti-aircraft of all types."

Only after the British force had finished its work and had withdrawn did German heavy coastal batteries reply to the naval guns.

Jap Casualties

SHANGHAI (AP)—Local Japanese newspapers reported today that the Japanese army had killed 6,794 Chinese soldiers and captured 461 in "mopping up" operations south of the Yangtze River, between October 4 and October 21. They reported 200 Japanese killed in these engagements.

Rumanian Iron Guardists Move for Trials

Carol, Lupescu Held in Spain

SEVILLE, Spain (AP)—Former King Carol of Rumania, Mme. Magda Lupescu and Ernst Urdareanu, Minister of the Palace, were under virtual arrest today with a strong police guard around their hotel.

They were notified of this yesterday and were to have been taken to Granada while the Spanish government considered their case and the possibility of their return to Rumania, but today the Foreign Office, apparently acting on an appeal from Carol, stayed execution of the removal order, pending conferences with Urdareanu.

The former minister, who accompanied his ruler into exile from Rumania, appeared frightened as he joined Carol in pleading for an interview.

Carol argued in his telegram that international law did not sanction the extradition of Mme. Lupescu and Urdareanu to Rumania "where the threat of death awaits them."

Magda Destroys Tell-tale Papers

Mme. Lupescu burned documents in the bathroom of her hotel apartment last night, said a maid.

While it was indicated Carol might not be forced to return to Rumania, one member of his party said he would not be surprised if the former king would follow Mme. Lupescu to Bucharest if she should be returned there.

All three appeared shocked when at their hotel the police informed them of the sudden change in their fortunes. Carol had been reported making preparations for going to the United States, and frequently since his arrival here had been in telephonic communication with Lisbon, Portugal.

Urdareanu was reported to have raised hands, which trembled and in a faltering voice exclaimed: "They'll kill me if we are sent back to Rumania. How is extradition possible?"

Madrid Paper Foreshadowed Move

Through the partly opened door Mme. Lupescu listened to the opening conversation. The news perhaps was not altogether a surprise since the Madrid newspaper Arriba, organ of the Spanish Falangists, hinted yesterday that she and Urdareanu might be compelled to return to Rumania to face trial.

Urdareanu's emaciated face became tense. "His Majesty should hear about this," he said weakly.

Then he and Mme. Lupescu withdrew to Carol's suite, followed by the police chief.

The King, it was reported,

could scarcely conceal his astonishment.

"Who, pray, gave you your orders?" he demanded.

"My superiors," replied the chief.

Almost mechanically Carol asked: "And who are your superiors?"

The chief did not answer. Police vigilance around the hotel was doubled. Later, however, Carol was told that he and the others could go into town under escort.

The former king later visited the civil governor.

(Reports from Bucharest had quoted Rumanian officials as saying the government had decided to ask for the extradition of Mme. Lupescu and Urdareanu. The Iron Guard in Rumania has demanded the arrest and trial of Mme. Lupescu. An editorial in the Arriba yesterday accused Carol's two companions of complicity in the assassination of a former Iron Guard chief.)

NEW SESSION STARTS NOV. 7

OTTAWA (CP)—Second session of Canada's 19th Parliament will begin November 7, two days after members of the House of Commons and Senate reassemble following a three-month adjournment.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King made the announcement at a press conference last night. He said Parliament would assemble November 5, the date set at the time of adjournment last August, and prorogue the same day.

At the new session starting November 7, members would be given ample opportunity for full discussion of the international situation, the war effort and any other matters they may desire to bring up.

LONDON (CP)—A suggestion that Soviet aid be invited in the removal of children from Britain was rejected in the House of Commons today by Richard Butler, under-secretary for foreign affairs.

5 Remanded

DUNCAN (CP)—Five Victoria men charged under the Defence of Canada regulations with having subversive literature in their possession, appeared in Police Court here today and were remanded till October 30 by Stipendiary Magistrate G. S. Tisdall. Each is free on $2,000 bail.

The five—Frederick J. Fox, Roy McKee, William W. Shaw, Charles N. Coe and Alex McDowell—were arrested by Duncan provincial police as they passed through here by car October 13.

117,000 Get Cheques

OTTAWA (CP)—Dependents' allowance cheques now are going regularly to 117,000 Canadian homes compared with 92,000 last August, Arthur McNamara, the chairman of the dependents' allowance board, said today.

Payments to dependents, including pay assigned by men in the fighting forces, at the present time amount to about $6,000,000 a month and since the start of the war have totaled about $45,000,000.

Meantime there have been about 15,000 discharges from the armed services since the war began for various physical disabilities and some of the men have been placed on pensions, it was said.

British Offensive Has Big Effect

Bombs Cut Nazi Output 20%

LONDON (CP)—Authoritative quarters said today they have reliable information that 20 per cent of Germany's productive capacity has been affected by British bombing and that the Germans have been forced to contemplate the "rebuilding" of Hamburg, the Reich's great seaport.

An informed foreign industrialist was quoted as giving the estimate of one-fifth as affected by the repeated attacks.

In the Meuhof area of Hamburg, for instance, large oil refineries have been forced to close, and three silos containing 10,000 tons of wheat, docks and important dockside buildings were said to have been destroyed.

Wreckage Means Work
Hitler Tells Them

A recent advertisement in Hitler's newspaper Voelkischer Beobachter, headed "Rebuilding and Rebuilding of Hanseatic Hamburg" offered a good period of employment to numerous persons from architects to the lowest grade of clerks.

Authoritative quarters said evidence had come to hand of the wrecking of a gasworks at Gelsenkirchen which was one of the largest of its kind in Europe.

Machine Factory In Berlin Halted

They added that a neutral observer reported a large Berlin factory making precision machinery for the fighting services had been brought to temporary standstill, while elsewhere in the city another factory containing machinery of vital importance also had suffered severe damage from direct bomb hits.

Another informant was quoted as saying much damage had been done to railway property in Berlin, and service on the rapid transit system was interrupted on several of its sections.

Defence Failure Openly Criticized

As a result of open criticism of German anti-aircraft defences, authoritative sources said, one of Germany's leading newspapers recently had published the following statement:

"A large section of the population appears to have a completely wrong idea of the possibilities of anti-aircraft warfare. For example, the opinion is freely expressed that the 'flak' should shoot down many more British aircraft than it does, and even prevent them from flying over German territory."

2-hour Raid On Midlands Town

25 Buried in Big London Store

LONDON (CP)—Although last night's air attacks on London were much lighter than usual, it was feared today about 25 persons were killed when a German bomb buried them under the fire-swept wreckage of one of London's largest department stores.

Reports as the afternoon wore on said 11 bodies already had been dragged out of the basement shelter.

An official of the store said, however, it would be "some time before a roll can be completed and the exact number of fatalities determined."

Undamaged parts of the store were open for business today while the search went on.

A bomb of unusually large calibre scored a direct hit on the building, where members of the staff who had already been bombed out of their homes and residents of neighboring apartments had taken shelter for the night.

London had two overnight raid alarms, but they were considerably shorter than on any night recently. Much of the night passed without any bombing, and such attacks as came were at no time heavy.

Bomb Wrecks Home,
4 Persons Killed

Four persons were killed and three severely injured when a heavy bomb demolished a house. Rescue squads searched for other possible victims.

Elsewhere, there were only intermittent raids, except at one town in the Midlands, where persistent attacks were made.

A communique from the Air Ministry and Ministry of Home Security today said:

"Enemy air activity over this country during the night was on a greatly reduced scale and except for a few isolated incidents the attacks ended well before midnight."

"In the Midlands, an attack which lasted for about two hours was mainly concentrated on one town. A number of fires were started and houses and other buildings were damaged. Casualties were not numerous, but they included a small number of persons killed."

"Bombs were also dropped in the London area, in the home counties and at isolated points in the west of England and south Wales. Reports indicate that damage caused was not heavy and that the casualties were few."

Attacking Planes
Have to Fly Blind

Nazi planes which did cross the fog-shrouded coast apparently were forced to fly and bomb "blind," British said, through the second successive night of thick weather.

The mist held the heavy smoke of London's chimney pots low over the city in a yellowish pall that penetrated buildings, cut visibility in the streets and reinforced the wartime blackout.

The capital's now-routine alarm at dusk came as usual, but the all-clear sounded before midnight after light attacks. There was a second brief alarm after midnight, but the only detonations heard were the firing of anti-aircraft guns.

more of it, in the forms of arms."

The Daily Mail said Kennedy's period in office "will always be notable for the extreme cordiality reached in Anglo-American relations" and spoke of the United States passing rapidly "from isolation to a pro-British sentiment even more profound than that of the last war."

Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express said "it has been no inconsiderable contribution to the survival of this country that we had here a 100 per cent American to put our case faithfully and vigorously to his own people."

LONDON (CP) — Praise for the "invaluable services" of the United States ambassador, Joseph P. Kennedy, who left here yesterday for home and who, some say, may not return, filled the London press today.

Hannen Swaffer, Daily Herald columnist, said Britain and the United States "are allies forever in deeds, if not in written words... largely, that is Joseph Kennedy's work."

He credited Kennedy with the plan to send the King and Queen on their visit to the United States after touring Canada in 1939 and added "then when war came Joe Kennedy's use to us was invaluable. He did not please us with the speeches he made when he visited home... but privately he was urging help, more and

Quebec Education Out of Date—Godbout

PLESSISVILLE, Que. (CP)—French-Canadian youths "cannot succeed without knowledge of English," and Quebec province's educational system should be revised "to prepare them for the duties they will have to accomplish in society," Premier Adélard Godbout said in an address here.

"Our youths," he declared, should not "be nourished until they are 20 years old by a system of education which prepares them for nothing if they do not wish to become priests or professionals." The Premier spoke at a banquet marking the opening of a school where farmers will be taught how to produce flax.

The province's educational system should become "more practical," the Premier said, and French-Canadian youths should be taught "more English and more mathematics."

"We are 3,000,000 French-Canadians against 174,000,000 English. I cannot say anything else to our youths but that they cannot succeed without a knowledge of English."

"The world is undergoing a drastic transformation at present," he said. "No one knows what the province of Quebec will be in a few years. If we are not prepared, tomorrow will be more submerged than today."

(On his return to Quebec today Mr. Godbout explained his reference to the numbers of French and English-speaking peoples by saying he was taking into consideration the number of English-speaking people in the United States and Canada.)

NORWEGIANS HAD HAZARDOUS TRIP

MONTREAL (CP)—Two young Norwegians were in Montreal today, weather-beaten by happy after a hazardous flight from their home country which included a 150-mile rowboat trip up the ice-bound coast of Greenland.

Veterans of the Russo-Finnish war and of the Norwegian struggle against German invasion, Alfred Sundt Jacobsen, 22, and Hans Engel Engebretsen, 24, stowed away on a ship bound for a wireless station in northern Greenland when they were paroled after 12 days as war prisoners of the German army of occupation.

At Torgilsbu, a Greenland settlement, they were marooned with the prospect of a year-long wait for the next supply ship. Against advice, they set out in an open rowboat, provisioned for 14 days, along the coast through Prince Christian Sound to an Eskimo village. There the men made connections with a steamship that took them to Port Alfred, near Chicoutimi, Quebec.

The lungs have been called the body's air-conditioning system.

R.C.A.F. DEATHS INCREASED TO 72

OTTAWA (CP)—The Royal Canadian Air Force's 16th official casualty list, issued today, raised to 72 the forces dead and missing reported since the war started.

The list follows:

Canada:
Killed in flying accident—A.C. Dick Bruce Milne, North Bay, Ont.

Drowned as result flying accident (previously reported missing)—L.A.C. Donald James Theobald, Lethbridge, Alta.

Slightly injured in flying accident—F.O. William Victor Mudra, Chicago.

Overseas:
Slightly injured as result enemy action—Sgt. Lloyd William Thomas Penn, Winnipeg; L.A.C. Hugh Tait, Winnipeg.

L.A.C. Theobald drowned September 28 when he fell from the wing of a seaplane which made a forced landing in Annapolis Basin near Halifax.

A.C. Milne died last Sunday when his plane dived too low in a mock "dog fight" near Toronto and one wing struck a tree.

Loss on New York Fair

NEW YORK (AP)—Harvey D. Gibson, board chairman of the New York World's Fair of 1940, has reported a total operating profit of $3,020,000 for the fair since May 11.

Gibson said that bondholders eventually would receive repayment of nearly 40 per cent of their $26,862,900 investment.

The fair, which will close this Sunday, had a gross revenue this season of $10,450,000, Gibson added, not counting receipts from advance ticket sales.

Much printed matter is almost a total loss for lack of an idea and a plan. Look at that last piece of printed matter you sent out—was it a delight or a disgrace? What effect did it have on your clients? It costs no more (often less) to print properly planned Folders, Booklets, Inserts—to make your printing an investment instead of an expense. "Before you print it let Penman plan it."

as in any business today, ideas make the difference between stagnation and progress. To conduct your business exactly as do your many competitors, to have your advertising look just like all the other mediocre announcements, to fill advertising space with meaningless, outworn platitudes, is simply wasting time and money—and GETTING NOWHERE!

If you agree, I'll be glad to talk things over with you, and to tell you something of ideas and advertising plans that I have had the privilege of putting into practice during a quarter century of successful merchandising and advertising. Not the slightest obligation, of course.

One Permanent Industry

MINISTER OF TOURIST AFFAIRS:

Here is a cabinet title to be conjured with. It is a suggestion which has emerged from a meeting of tourist officials in Ottawa. These experts are familiar with the possibilities of which they are desirous Canada should avail herself to the full. The nature of their deliberations obviously implies that they are anxious to prevent another falling off in the revenue from this important industry such as that which occurred this year—largely because of the lack of national direction when certain unavoidable national policies caused would-be visitors from the United States to hesitate about including this country in their holiday itinerary. A Minister of Tourist Affairs could have foreseen, for instance, the possibilities of apprehension in connection with passports and money matters. Yet in spite of the fact that all these were in favor of the visitor, that every tourist agency did its best to explain the circumstances in the plainest detail, our 1940 business dropped below $300,000,000.

Less than two decades ago Canada's economy and Canada's economists found small place in their business calculations for the Dominion's tourist traffic and its monetary returns. Nor was this lack of interest particularly surprising. We were in the middle of the process of sorting ourselves out from the effects of the early aftermath of the last war. But as soon as the commercial upturn set in about 1925, when the automobile industry in this country and in the United States exceeded all expectations in its development and activity, governments began to take notice of this movement of holiday-makers in and about the North American Continent. If anything, moreover, the economic debacle of 1929 and its subsequent periodic repercussions in recent years served to emphasize the importance of the tourist business as one of the most lucrative of the nation's economic stabilizing agencies.

The value of this business brought Canada last year approximately $275,000,000 and it is confidently expected that as the years pass $300,000,000 will be the minimum annual return—its expansion being dependent, of course, on factors with which we and we alone are in a position to deal. The quality of our advertising, for example, the regard we manifest for highways over which still newer automobile models continue to roll, the manner in which we treat the stranger within our gates; all these and many other considerations must be brought within the proposal to establish a portfolio at Ottawa with a full-time minister of tourist development. Such a department of the public service naturally would soon discover the importance of co-ordinated national effort to augment the emergency business of wartime with that of a business with limitless possibilities. And it has been well said that this "is the only industry which is able to sell its products and at the same time retain that product for sale next year."

The Right Procedure

ALL CANADIANS WILL APPLAUD MR. Mackenzie King's decision to prorogue the first session of the present Parliament on November 5 and to reassemble two days afterwards. This will furnish both Houses with ample opportunity to discuss the international situation in all its details, to re-examine the condition and potentialities of Canada's effort in the light of developments which have taken place since adjournment early last August, while the public at large, presumably, will obtain an insight into their business after 14 months of war.

It will be recalled the Prime Minister intimated some time ago that Parliament would meet only formally next month for the purpose of proroguing in the ordinary way and to arrange to meet again early in the New Year. This brought a prompt and natural objection from the leaders of both opposition parties. Quite conceivably the elected representatives of the people have been pined with more questions from their constituents since the House and Senate adjourned three months ago than would have been the case in a year in normal times. It would be unnatural to suppose that all the inquiries have implied complete satisfaction with everything the government has done in the interim. And the floor of the House is the logical place to discuss complaints which may directly or indirectly concern the welfare of the nation.

It has always been Mr. King's contention that the right thing to do when circumstances permit is to discuss the people's business with the people themselves or with those who represent them in Parliament. He took the former course when he decided to submit his administration's record to the electors last March instead of condoning a waste of Parliament's time on controversial matters, which, of course, would have been subjected to a second examination on the benches during the election—then overdue according to traditional custom. While there may be no specific emergency demanding full and immediate parliamentary debate, therefore, the Prime Minister would not be living up to the teachings of his own philosophy were he at this stage to follow what would have all the appearance of arbitrary procedure.

Hitler's Comings and Goings

BY THE TIME THIS IS READ, AND IF all the dispatches contained can be interpreted as gospel truth, Reichsfuehrer Hitler will have met Spain's Generalissimo Francisco Franco at least three times today. And we already have been told quite reliably that the Nazi chief and France's anti-British Pierre Laval have conferred.

Today's diplomatic cocktail, which has brought to the shaker political ingredients from Germany, Spain and France, is getting conflicting dashes of Vichy bitters. To abandon the metaphor, however, there seems to be a reliable indication that old Marshal Petain does not intend to involve France in any plan that might range what is left of French armed might on the side of the Axis and against Great Britain. That he is being impressively importuned so to decide can be taken for granted; and Laval, despite his protestations to the contrary, is still a nasty snake in the grass.

He 'Jammed' the Air

NATURALLY THE NAZI MASTERS OF the Petain government overlooked nothing to prevent the French people from hearing the address of Mr. Churchill on Monday. Nor was it likely that the sinister mind of M. Laval would overlook anything he could think of to "jam" the air while the British Prime Minister was speaking. But Minister of Information Alfred Duff Cooper reminds us that a transcription of the address went through the ether later in the day.

It is fairly safe to say, however, that a large proportion of the French people did not hear, nor will they be able to read Mr. Churchill's assuring and encouraging words—unless the British Ministry of Propaganda applies for the use of a dozen high-flying and speedy airplanes to drop reprints of the speech all over France. Perhaps this is already being done. But if the dropping of somewhat colorless propaganda was deemed desirable or necessary in the early stages of the war—as it undoubtedly was—now would appear to be the time to rub in, in all its ample detail, full particulars of what the Royal Air Force and the Royal Navy have done and are doing to the totalitarian war machine. Germans within many miles of industrial Westphalia, the Hanseatic port of Hamburg, the great railway marshalling yards at Hamm, the hydrogenation plant at Leuna near Leipzig—not forgetting Berlin and the environs of the Reich capital—know all too well what is going on about them. But there is no evidence that they have obtained any information whatever of the progress of the war outside, what the British Empire as a whole is doing, or what part the great industrial plants of the United States are playing in support of the British cause.

20 Per Cent 'Affected'

NEUTRAL OBSERVERS REPORT THAT at least 20 per cent of Germany's war industries have been "affected" by the incessant bombardments carried out by the gallant men of the Royal Air Force. We have no means of discovering whether this represents an overstatement or an understatement of the facts as they must be known to the oligarchy in Berlin. We do know, however, that for months past the British bomber command has followed out a methodical plan to embarrass Hitler's industrial production to the fullest possible extent. Nor has the government in London permitted itself to be swayed by the not unnatural demand for reprisals for brutal Nazi air raids over London and other communities.

As we have implied elsewhere, however, the spectacle of Hitler and his Foreign Minister von Ribbentrop running first to the Brenner Pass, to Vichy or Paris, then to an unannounced rendezvous to meet the Spanish dictator, is one that does not in the least harmonize with the recent carving up of the British Empire by the propagandists of Berlin and Rome. Even the approach to the men of Vichy with more promises and threats does not suggest that all is well with the senior axis nation. Perhaps one commentator puts it best when he says: "You don't look for a partner when business is good." But wishful thinking is still dangerous. Mr. Churchill's fears should always be kept in mind when the international sky takes on an unnatural brilliance.

CANADIANS WANT TO KNOW

From Ottawa Citizen
Despite the speeches of ministers and much information in the newspapers, there is still a widespread feeling in Canada that we are travelling much in the dark. There is a natural desire on the part of the public to hear what Parliament has to reveal and what the government has further to offer regarding the war effort. Great things are being done, but many more remain to be done.

The example of the British Parliament should make it very clear to Mr. King and his colleagues that an active House of Commons is one of the greatest factors in preserving a sound morale and in welding the national will. The electrifying effect of Mr. Churchill's frequent candid statements to the British commonsense needs no dwelling upon. It is perhaps asking too much that leadership along similar lines be manifested in Ottawa, but at least this nation ought to be made to feel that its government and its Parliament are carrying out its unanimous will. The Prime Minister may have less dramatic material to exploit, but he can say a great deal in the House that would have a unifying and invigorating effect on every Canadian. The long periods of silence which mark Mr. King's relations with the public do not work out the way he appears to imagine.

SOULS UNCHANGED

THE GERMAN CHARACTER is grossly misunderstood; and the Nazis have done the most to cause it to be misunderstood. There is a natural German aggressiveness that can reach the most horrifying brutality, but the other side of the picture is there, too. Extreme aggressiveness and extreme sensitivity are not incompatible characteristics either in persons or in nations. Indeed, one is usually the overcompensation for the other. Germans, more than any people whom I have ever lived among, want to be liked and suffer from disapprobation. The hatred and disgust which Hitler has brought upon Germany from all the peoples whom the German people like and admire—the British, the Dutch, the Scandinavians, the French, the Hungarians, the Americans—combined with the approbation of the one nation that they do not particularly like, admire or trust, the Italian—are eating into the German soul. The soul of a people cannot be changed by 5 or 10 or 20 years of a totalitarian regime. At least a generation is necessary. To be masters of a world in which one is feared and hated is not an attractive prospect to Germans. Of that this column is sure, without any more evidence than a decade of life in Germany, a knowledge of German people, literature, and history and an unquenchable love of deeply-moving German qualities.

NOT YET

THE DEMAND FROM one sector of the British public, as expressed in the House of Commons, that the peace terms should begin to be formulated, has given rise to speculation whether this does not indicate a British desire to come to terms with the Nazis.

It does not. On the contrary, it comes from those people who know that this war is not essentially a war between nations, but is a deep revolutionary conflict between ways of life and sets of values. They want it made clear that their war is not against "Germany" except as Germany under Hitler has made herself the instrument for the destruction of all civilized values. The clearer it is that Britain is not out to destroy Germany or any other nation, or to defend as though sacred forever the former status quo, but rather to establish at long last upon this earth economic collaboration, political integration and a renaissance of humane values, the greater the numbers of secret allies that Britain will find in Germany and everywhere else.

MORALE

THE DIFFICULTY is to formulate deeply-felt values and ethical principles into a fixed program, applicable to a world the condition of which, after this war, cannot be foreseen. But it is highly significant that there was never more philosophical speculation in Britain than there is now, in the midst of bombings, or a deeper feeling that these speculations are an essential part of the war.

The Nazis are still trying desperately to persuade the German people that the war will soon be over and not greatly extended. The Nazi-dominated Norwegian press is forbidden to speak of a "world war," in spite of the fact that it has already touched every continent except South America.

German soldiers complain: "We have been mobilized for five years, and the war will never be over."

The question of morale is, therefore, not merely a British question.

OCTOBER

From Christian Science Monitor
October. Echoing with the Psalmist, as the congregation of many a white-spined church, "The valleys stand so thick with corn that they laugh and sing."

October singing the song of harvest. Song of the shocked corn. The gleaming pumpkins. The shining apples, red and green, piled high in barrels and boxes under orchard trees.

October singing the song of the fruits and vegetables under the tent of the country fair. Squashes and pumpkins. Purple eggplant and purple-topped rutabaga. Mexican corn with the colors of Indian pottery. Cabbages and cauliflower. Feathery celery and carrots. Perfect bunches of grapes. The Diana, Cord and Niagara.

October singing the song of green and red peppers hanging on back porches of many a farmhouse. Singing the song of the blazing hearth fire, the hunting moon and Mercury, evening star.

Singing the song of the woodlands, gay with the red and gold banners of maple and birch. Of old fences covered with scarlet and orange vines. Of starry asters, and fringed gentian. Of bayberries and bitter-sweet.

All singing the harvest song of October. Reminding men and women everywhere in these tumultuous war-torn days that though they "sow in tears," they too "shall reap in joy."

KILLED ON ACTIVE SERVICE

From an Artilleryman at Fort Macaulay
"He had never done anyone any harm. One minute he was alive, walking proudly in the lead. The next moment he lay on the road with blood gushing from his mouth and ears. He was our mascot—our dog. Now the victim of a speed fiend."

"One of these days it may be a man that has this happen to him. I dare say the driver will be mobbed on the spot, as we soldiers are getting tired of speedsters. They pass us at all rates of speed as though they own the road. Some of the worst are the soldiers themselves."

"I suggest that a speed limit of four miles per hour be set for passing troops on the march—and I suggest that it be enforced."

BATTLE FOR AFRICA

THE NEXT STAGE of the war will probably decide the temporary fate of Africa. But, by a paradox, it is much more likely to be fought to a decision in Asia Minor than in Africa itself. That is just another way of saying that we must hold the Suez Canal or we lose Africa, and in losing Africa lose our greatest weapon against the gangster dictators, namely the economic blockade.

I have never agreed with those who believed that the Russians would fight the Nazis rather than permit them to obtain a foothold on the shores of the Black Sea. It seems to me that a basic Soviet policy, from the days of the October revolution till now, and for the future, is this: The Soviet must never attempt to fight Germany unless the latter is so involved that she cannot throw her full force into an invasion of Russia.

That basic policy explains many things, including the seeming somersaults of the diplomacy of Moscow. It explains the real reason for the making of the non-aggression pact between Germany and Russia. It explains why Russia is getting ready for another switch in her zig-zag route toward increased world power.

If my premises are sound, Russia could not afford to intervene in the war now. Her troops hold the left bank of the Danube, near its mouth. But German troops are on the other side of the river, and appear certain to obtain several alternate outlets to the Black Sea in the near future.

PROF. UNDERHILL DID

From Toronto Star
The Toronto Telegram keeps repeating the statement that Prof. Underhill said in his address at Geneva Park that

"We now have two loyalties—one to Britain, the other to North America. I venture to say it is the second, North America, which is going to be supreme now. The relative importance of Britain is going to sink, no matter what happens."

These are extracts from an account of his address which appeared in the press at the time, and the Telegram says (September 17): "A search of newspaper files failed to reveal a letter or statement from Prof. Underhill challenging the authenticity of the story." Again (editorially, September 18): "This was a report, publicly made, of a speech which was publicly uttered. It has not been publicly denied. The board of governors of the University of Toronto insists the intelligence of the public when it pretends that it is in any doubt as to what Prof. Underhill said."

The fact is that if the Telegram had really made a search of newspaper files it would have found a letter from Professor Underhill in the columns of the Star of September 4 in which he said that his reference to the two loyalties was an almost direct quotation from the New Statesman and Nation of London, England, and added: "I did not say that it was the second loyalty (to North America) that is going to be supreme now. I did not say that it was going to be supreme at any time. On the contrary, I carefully pointed out that there was no need to expect a breach of our connection with Britain."

Prof. Underhill has never been noted for concealing his opinions. Quite the contrary. And when he denies part of the newspaper report, it may be taken for granted that the report misrepresented him. If his address was inopportune, it was not such an address as would warrant his dismissal from the university, and the governors are to be congratulated on taking a sensible view of it.

MEDICAL SERVICE

From Vancouver News-Herald
The Medical Services Association has opened its offices here and enrollment of members is going forward. Services which start on November 1 are designed to give people of low income an opportunity to get the best medical service at a price they can afford. This association would achieve by co-operative effort and payment on the basis of a regular schedule of fees. The association plan is not a profit-making venture. If there is any profit it will be used to benefit those participating under the scheme. The plan will be operated by a board of laymen with some medical representation.

The M.S.A. represents a modern and intelligent idea and, while waiting the establishment of a public health insurance plan, it should prove a worthwhile service.

The building has a loud voice and is notoriously capable of self-inflation. When danger threatens it dives for its principal refuge in the deep. It reminds me of Mussolini.—Dr. Ernest A. Hooton, British anthropologist.

BATTLE FOR AFRICA

tight until Hitler has deeply entangled himself in Asia Minor. I am not speculating on how Hitler is going to try to get there, but think it will more probably be by some other route than by Turkey. Syria, paralyzed by the captive government at Vichy, would be in no position to oppose a large-scale landing by parachute were Hitler to take the Greece-Aegean Island route.

It would be quite in keeping with Stalin's way of life to work a horse trade with Hitler pending time for the final showdown. I expect some sort of a deal whereby Russia strengthens her security near the Dardanelles, ostensibly for permitting Hitler to establish himself on the Black Sea.

But the net effect will be to force Hitler to detour on his route to the oil of Iraq and Persia. Once locked in a deadly battle with Britain near the Suez the Germans will form just the sort of target that Stalin wants. Their most vulnerable oilfields will be less than a half hour's flying distance from the huge Russian air fleets. They will hold a front adjoining Russia, stretching for thousands of miles. According to all the rules of strategy the situation would be ideal for action by the kind of armies that Stalin has.

Our job is to hold the Suez at all costs, against any and every body. As long as we do so we hold the key to the Battle for Africa. We also hold the most important gateway to and from the Mediterranean, through which, when the tide of war turns, we can pour armies to strike at the heart of our weaker enemy.

ABOUT THE TROOPS HERE

A Vancouver soldier's mother writes:

"This is to inquire what is being done by the church people in Victoria for the boys in camp at Gordon Head and elsewhere on the island. They probably get rather tired of their own company. If they were home they would be in contact with their own church groups and with acquaintances in general. Decent fellows feel a bit lost in a strange town."

ARENA FUND

To the Editor:—Following is a statement of receipts and disbursements in connection with the Victoria Arena Fund Campaign as at October 18, 1940.

Receipts—
Cash collected $9,711.21
Bank interest 7.78

Disbursements—
Salaries $ 688.00
Office expenses 236.97
Printing and stationery 424.94
Publicity and advertising 482.79
Sundry accounts 186.70
Petty cash 44.50

Cash balance $2,063.90
..... 7,655.09

$9,718.99

The amount pledged in cash or value of materials was $33,912.85, of which $9,711.21 has been collected; after deducting campaign expenses a balance of $7,655.09 is at present held at the Bank of Montreal under the name of the Trustees' Victoria Arena Fund.

It should be noted that a considerable amount of the sum pledged was conditional on sufficient being raised to complete the arena. Also that for the last three months collections have practically ceased.

Under the terms of the trusteeship, the trustees are to hold the money collected for a period not exceeding two years, to be repaid pro rata after that time if sufficient money has not been raised to complete the arena, and if the subscribers so wished.

It is better that Canadian policy be subjected to the scrutiny of Parliament and to full debate in order that the government may have a better opportunity to state its case to the Canadian people. The session will also afford the opposition an opportunity to get a load off its chest.

But far more important than all this is the fact that here in Canada at war, Parliament is functioning as a living institution. Canada has no rubber stamp government.

Better English

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "I had hardly begun the work when I was interrupted."
2. What is the correct pronunciation of "bestial"?
3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Hostility, hostility, hosana.
4. What does the word "schism" mean?
5. What is a word beginning with "no" that means "wandering; roaming?"

Answers
1. Say "I had hardly begun the work when I was interrupted." 2. Pronounce best-yal, e as in best (not as in beast), a unstressed. 3. Hosanna. 4. Division; specifically, formal separation in the Christian church. (Pronounce siz'm). "The clergy made war on schism with so much vigor that they had little leisure to make war on vice."—Macaulay. 5. Local Boards To Handle Rents Across Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Extension of rent control to hitherto uncontrolled areas in Canada may be made soon, Mr. Justice Martin, rent administrator, intimated today.

Warnings against undue enhancement of rents have already been sent to landlords in a number of areas outside controlled zones. In controlled areas rents have been "frozen" at levels of last January 2.

Definite requests for rent control have been received by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, under which the rent administrator operates, from Hamilton, Calgary and Prince Albert.

At the same time it was said the volume of complaints from Regina and Ottawa, Lindsay and Pembroke has been sufficient to attract attention. Winnipeg City Council discussions on rents are also being watched with interest.

Mr. Justice Martin said an organization to provide for local boards to deal directly with appeals in their districts in the areas where rent control is in force is in the process of development.

Rent control was established last month in more than a dozen areas throughout the Dominion where wartime activity either in industrial life or the military brought congestion and crowding of housing facilities followed by complaints that landlords were raising rents unduly.

Areas which came under the rent administrator's "standstill" order then included:

Manitoba—Brandon.
British Columbia—Victoria, Esquimalt and Vancouver.

WARNINGS GIVEN

Up to date warnings issued outside the controlled areas have been more in the nature of suggestions than commands because the Wartime Prices and Trade Board is not anxious to extend its operations unless necessary. The warnings followed complaints from communities involved.

Revision of the boundaries of some of the areas already controlled is under discussion, Mr. Justice Martin said. Several are likely to be enlarged at once in order to take in "whole" of the districts involved. During his recent western tour the administrator had to deal with hundreds of individual cases and the prospect is that these will grow in number. For this reason local boards will be set up. At present the intention is to ask county court judges to act as chairmen of local bodies with representatives of landlords and tenants.

On his tour, Mr. Justice Martin said, he found considerable evidence of the need of rent control. In one area rents had been raised two, three and four times during 1940.

$0 TO $40 MONTHLY

Increase of 50 per cent in rents for small houses was not uncommon, and there was one case where rent had been raised from $0 a month to $40. He found a shack which could have been built for $150, renting for $20 a month.

The landlord was willing to put in electric light for an extra $3 a month. A request for the cost of the building met with no response from the owner, the administrator said. If it was not forthcoming within a week the board would use its own judgment.

Mr. Justice Martin said that in general rent-pegging had been accepted by property owners as reasonable, and most disagreements had been settled without difficulty. There had been, however, certain attempts at evasion.

One landlord in an eastern city upon his proposed increases in rent being refused by tenants, turned off the heat. Apprised of the fact that one of the tenants was an elderly invalid the board intimated it might "turn on its own heat," whereupon the landlord turned the heat on again.

The board believes any tenant whose rent is pegged is entitled to all the services mentioned in 1's lease, and a breach of its orders is an indictable offence.

Within the next few weeks Mr. Justice Martin will visit remaining controlled areas in Ontario and the Maritime provinces. After that he plans to visit Vancouver and Victoria for a study of conditions in both controlled and uncontrolled areas.

Anderson Dramatizes Jesus, the Boy

By MARK BARRON

NEW YORK (AP)—Since those days when he was an able newspaperman on the New York World, Maxwell Anderson has never been able to get far away from the instinct of an historical reporter. So today he writes a drama about young Jesus and His times, and Anderson does it in the manner of the capable re-writer he is.

In "Journey to Jerusalem," which the playwrights company presents in a colorful production, Anderson dramatizes that section of the Bible which would most likely appeal to an incurable journalist, instead of doing the obvious task for a poetic playwright and merely changing into stage form the drama and beauty of the Bible. Anderson probes into a blind spot in the New Testament. With scanty evidence at hand he reconstructs the story of what apparently happened during the Passover week when Jesus was 12 years old and went with His family to Jerusalem to attend the feast.

St. Luke told the story, and it is from his lines that Anderson gets the meagre information to construct the imaginative scenes where the young Jesus is finally persuaded that he is to be the Messiah.

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE

Anderson does not attempt to be an authoritative reporter about St. Luke's testimony, but he takes what is given and produces a story that might be viewed from a reasonable viewpoint on circumstantial evidence. It follows in form with his other historical plays: "Elizabeth, the Queen," "Mary of Scotland," "High Tide" and "Knickerbocker Holiday."

In "Journey to Jerusalem" Anderson begins with the reign of Herod the Great, who believed in signs of the stars and he thought that he saw in the skies a prophecy that the Messiah was coming to earth. So, fearful, he ordered the death of all children born in 4 B.C., so that, he hoped, he could kill Jesus. The 4 B.C. is explained in that most historians agree that was really the year Jesus was born; that Dionysius Exiguus made an error of a few years in setting the date of the beginning of the Christian era.

Anderson, once he has established his historical background, presents Jesus as a young man who is honestly and sincerely trying to find his real mission in life, determined to know if he really is the Messiah before he accepts that tragic assignment.

Despite the fact that Anderson has written the drama in his accustomed blank verse, that his subject matter is noble and moving, "Journey to Jerusalem" ends as just a fair play.

SIDNEY LUMET HAS LEAD

It has little of the majesty and poignant drama of the play about Jesus' family in "Family Portrait" in 1939, when Judith Anderson gave such a tender and lovely performance as the Mother of Christ.

For the role of the Child Jesus, the playwrights have a young actor named Sidney Lumet, who has a gentle face and an eagerness to do well. Horace Braham is an exciting actor as Joseph, and returns to the stage here after six years' absence from the theatre as an advertising executive.

Elmer Rice has directed the play with a pushing tempo that helps Anderson's script some, and the scenery and lighting of Jo Meisinger are as warm and beautiful as one of those scenes we used to see in the silent movies with the "same the down" title.

The George S. Kaufman-Moss Hart comedy, "George Washington Slept Here," was scheduled to open this week and didn't. Ernest Truex, suave comedian playing a leading role, stumbled and injured his knee. So the premiere will be next week.

How to Make a Splendid Cough Remedy at Home

A Big Saving, and It's So Easy! No Cooking!

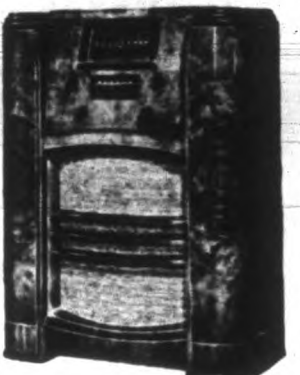

Cough medicines usually contain a large quantity of sugar syrup—a good ingredient, but one which you can easily make at home. Take 2 cups of granulated sugar and 1 cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. No cooking! No trouble at all. Then get from your druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a 16 ounce bottle, and add your syrup. This gives you 10 ounces of really splendid medicine for bad winter coughs. It makes a real saving for you, because it gives you four times as much cough remedy for your money. It lasts a long time, never spoils, and children love it. This is a very effective, dependable, quick-acting cough remedy for the whole family. Quickly, you feel its penetrating effect in the air passages. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes and makes breathing easy. You will be more than delighted with its quick effect in clearing up bad coughs. Pinex is a compound containing Norway Pine and palatable guaracil, in concentrated form, a well known and reliable coughing agent for winter coughs. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

FLEE FROM POSSIBLE PACIFIC CONFLICT—Arrivals here this week from Japan included Mrs. L. H. Lovely, wife of the assistant manager of the Shell Oil Company in Yokohama, pictured above at the Empress Hotel, where she is staying with her daughters, Susan, 15 and June, 12. Mrs. Lovely and her daughters had been three years in England, 11 months under war conditions, when she returned to Japan. They were there only seven days when she took passage for Victoria and will remain indefinitely here.

Social and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Aylard of Sidney have left to spend a few weeks at Harrison Hot Springs.

Mrs. E. B. McCallum of Regina, is visiting her father, Mr. W. B. Lanigan, Uplands.

Mrs. Lennox Irving, Foul Bay Road, went over to Vancouver today to visit her sister, Mrs. J. H. Carswell.

Mrs. J. C. McIntosh has left for Vancouver to visit for a short time before leaving to make a visit of indefinite duration in eastern Canada.

Mrs. A. Sandy, Menzies Street, has returned from Salt Spring Island, where she has been spending a week as the guest of Mrs. Lynn Bittancourt.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Wilde of Vancouver are spending a week in Victoria with Mrs. Wilde's parents, Judge H. H. Shandley and Mrs. Shandley, Beach Drive.

Mr. Hereward Norman, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Trevor Norman, Island Highway, Langford, left during the past week for Toronto, where he will train with the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Parks, who have been spending the week-end with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis B. Smith, Langford Lake, have returned to their home at Burnaby.

Mrs. R. G. O. Thomson of Toronto, who came out from the east for the marriage of her son, Lieut. Woodburn Thomson to Miss Cecily Holmes at Prince Rupert recently, has left for her home in Ontario after being the guest of Miss Kathleen Agnew, "Schubert," since her return from Prince Rupert.

About 150 guests danced at the Uplands Golf Club last evening and helped to augment the Lord Mayor of London's fund for victims of Nazi bombings. The rooms were gay with dahlias, chrysanthemums and greenery, and a three-piece orchestra provided the lively program of music. The committee in charge of the dance arrangements included Mr. D. Fletcher, Mr. G. Beveridge, Mrs. E. Jackson, Mrs. Barker and Mrs. J. R. Hilbertson.

The Trafalgar Day bridge tea held by the W.A. to the Navy League drew a large number of guests to the Y.W.C.A. yesterday afternoon. Mrs. R. Shanks, the president, received them in the lounge, which was attractively arranged with bronze and yellow chrysanthemums, small Union Jacks being grouped on a number of the tea tables, and a large Union Jack hanging from the mantelpiece. Mrs. Leonard MacKenzie was in charge of the general arrangements for the afternoon and assisting her at the tea hour were Mrs. Wetherill, Mrs. King, Mrs. T. Greenwell, Mrs. Hickman, Miss Yvonne Jones, Miss Dorothy Wetherill and Miss Amy Cashmore. Mrs. Andrew Blyth was winner of the bridge prize and Mrs. William Ellis was awarded the tea guest prize. Mrs. L. A. Lucas had charge of the cash receipts. A needlework picture, beautifully worked by Mrs. Basil Hartley and given to the auxiliary by Commander Shingler, to be disposed of for the funds of the W.A., was on exhibition.

Mrs. W. Kenneth McCarter entertained at the tea hour this afternoon at her home on Cadboro Bay Road, when a large number of guests were present. Button dahlias in various shades were used in floral decoration throughout the home.

Prior to the dance last evening at the Royal Colwood Golf Course held by the members of the Junior W.A. to the Jubilee Hospital, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Maclean entertained at their home on Dewdney Avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Peter Barr, Rockland Avenue, were also at a similar party.

Miss Kathleen Agnew entertained with an informal supper party at her home, "Schubert," Rockland Avenue, last evening in honor of the English Singers, Miss Viola Morris and Miss Victoria Anderson, following their concert last evening. Members of the Victoria Musical Arts Society's executive, which sponsored the show, and a few additional guests were invited to meet the artists. Chrysanthemums and other autumn flowers were decoratively used through the drawing-room, library and hall, and the supper table in the dining-room was centred with a beautiful Dresden china basket, filled with Talleman roses and set on an Italian mirror. Mr. Arthur Benjamin and Mr. John Goss, who both were over from Vancouver for the concert, were among the guests.

Miss Marie McDougall entertained at "Rockside," the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Mildenhall on Pembroke Street, on Monday evening, in honor of Miss Dorothy Nicholson, a bride-elect. The evening was most enjoyably spent in assembling the pictorial biographies of the bride and groom-to-be, concluded with humorous readings by Miss Wilma Gardner. The colorfully wrapped gifts were presented in a model airplane of blue and silver. A dainty supper was served by the hostesses. The invited guests included: Mrs. J. Mildenhall, Mrs. J. N. Rowell, Mrs. H. A. McLeod, Mrs. G. Neil Perry, Mrs. R. S. Niven, Mrs. E. Baker; the Misses Marie McDougall, Wilma Gardner, Gladys Farnon, I. McCoy, Jessie Watt, Gertrude Durkin, Florence Cummins, Peggy Turnbull, Eve Campbell, Margaret Gold, E. Auger, Helen Clark and Norma Rowell.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. S. Fenwick, 1025 Finlayson Ave., announce the engagement of their elder daughter, Dorothy Ellen, to Mr. Donald W. Draper, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Draper, 1035 McGregor Avenue. The wedding will take place on November 23 at St. John's Church.

Miss Muriel Winterbottom, a November bride-elect, was honored last evening when members of her bridge club entertained at the home of Miss Alice Dougan, Heywood Avenue. The guest of honor was presented with a beautiful hand-embroidered Madeira cloth with serviettes to match, and a corsage of Ophelia roses. Bridge was played and later supper served from a table centred with plum-colored baby chrysanthemums. The guests included Mrs. A. Patterson, Mrs. Harold Johns, the Misses Muriel Winterbottom, Grace Genn, Laura Catterall, Dorothy Freeman, Gertrude Haughton and Phyllis Winterbottom.

Miss Margaret Purdy, an October bride-elect, was the guest of honor at a kitchen shower held Sunday afternoon in Terry's Rose Room. The joint hostesses were the Misses Jane Trotter, Lucille Spark and Mary Wells. On arrival Miss Purdy was presented with a corsage of red roses tied with blue ribbon, denoting the colors of the Cardinals Club, of which she is a member. The invited guests included Mesdames J. Purdy, J. Rice, W. Purdy, R. Swanson, D. Bennett, C. Bright, Toledo, Ohio, W. E. Wells, J. Trotter, A. Craig, Berkeley, Calif., R. MacMurchie, T. Goldsmith, J. Travis, H. Turner, R. Crowley, G. Longstaff, C. Chapman, R. Davidson and the Misses Marion Alexander, Jessie McDonald, Bunny McDonald, Biddy Boyce, Kay Freeston, Gertrude Taylor, Vivian Hannan, Jean Wilson, Eleanor Peden, Eva Mason, Dorothy Prior, Bertha Crosby, Virginia Hall, Peggy White, Doris Anderson, Patricia Stipe, Genevieve Liddle, Jane Trotter, Mary Wells and Lucille Spark.

Held Jolly Dance, At Colwood Club

About 200 guests, including many officers of the services, danced at the Royal Colwood Golf Club last evening under the auspices of the Junior Women's Auxiliary to the Royal Jubilee Hospital, the affair proving a delightful success.

The beauty of the setting was enhanced by the decorations, masses of dahlias, chrysanthemums and autumn foliage being arranged in the reception lounge and also used to bank the fireplace. Flags, which had been kindly lent for the occasion, gave a bright note of color, appropriate to Trafalgar Day.

Acting as patrons were Air Commodore and Mrs. A. E. Godfrey, Commodore and Mrs. J. W. R. Booth, Dr. and Mrs. Hermann Robertson and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Tomlin.

A five-piece orchestra furnished the dance music, which included a number of popular airs of the day and many old favorites revived from the last war. A buffet supper was served in the ballroom, the long tables attractive with their floral decorations.

Mrs. H. T. Goodland was general convener of the special dance committee and she was ably assisted by fellow-members of the auxiliary. Mrs. R. R. Horton had charge of the decorations, assisted by Mrs. A. B. Gossage, Mrs. George Hall and Mrs. C. A. Watson. Mrs. T. B. Wilson and Mrs. Andrew Wright were co-veners of the tickets.

Lake Hill Women's Institute will hold a wool bee on Thursday morning at 10.30.

TREW-STOTT

Mrs. T. M. Trew, 363 Sunset Avenue, announces the marriage of her eldest son, Edward Charles Trew, at present in England with the R.C.A.F., to Miss Mary Stott. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's mother, "The Grange," Cheadleholme, Cheshire.

Gala Opening for Seattle Symphony

SEATTLE—Society turned out en masse Monday evening for the opening of the symphony season, when Dr. Nikolai Sokoloff of New York conducted the Seattle Symphony Orchestra at Music Hall Theatre.

Leaders of Seattle society wore diamond tiaras, furs and formal gowns, topped off with orchids as they stepped from their chauffeur-driven cars for Seattle's gayest "first night," so far this year.

Noticed in the great audience were Mrs. C. Eden Quanton, the former Marjorie Oates of Victoria, B.C., in a gown that combined powder blue and midnight blue, with a bolero fur jacket; Mrs. Eugene Fuller and Dr. Richard Fuller, also formerly of Victoria and Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Dunbar Clark, who spend much of each summer in Victoria.

Dr. Sokoloff will take the Seattle Symphony to Victoria for its annual concert next month.

Housewives' Service

LONDON—A housewives' service, a system which already has won its spurs in Air Raid Precautions work in London and elsewhere in England, is being organized in the Midlands region. Aim of the service is to co-operate with the wardens and other A.R.P. workers and to promote a feeling of confidence and neighborliness. Members of the service meet in street groups and take training in A.R.P. and accident aid.

Clubwomen's News

W.A. to Victoria Trades and Labor Council will meet Thursday evening at 8 in Labor Hall, 602 Broughton Street. Important business is to be discussed.

The Women's Association of Oak Bay United Church will hold the annual banquet for members of the church and friends on October 28, at 6.30. The speaker will be Rev. W. G. Wilson.

Lodge Primrose, Daughters of England, will meet Friday in S.O.E. Hall at 7.30 p.m. The annual bazaar will be opened by Mrs. B. Morris, who also gave a talk on "The Best Plan of Life" and "Our Place in the World." Business was discussed and refreshments were served at the close.

The Canadian Daughters' League, Assembly No. 5, met recently in the Shrine Hall, Mrs. C. Jasper presiding. Routine business was dealt with, after which the members were entertained by Group 2, convened by Mrs. M. Jones. Court whist was played and prizes awarded to Mrs. C. Huxtable and Mrs. W. Kay. Refreshments were served. The executive will meet Thursday evening at the president's home, Heron Street.

The Anne Wilson W.M.S. Auxiliary held its autumn thank-offering meeting at the home of Mrs. Alistair Campbell, Uplands Road, on Monday afternoon, when a shower of gifts to be sent out on the West Coast Mission boat was collected. Any members who were unable to attend are asked to leave their parcels at the Y.W.C.A. desk. A report of the recent presbytery rally was presented by Mrs. R. H. Nash. Mrs. A. Campbell, Mrs. Murray Anderson and Mrs. G. A. Johnson were appointed to act as a nominating committee and asked to present a slate of officers at the November meeting. Another committee to plan the Christmas luncheon included Mrs. J. W. Stephen, Mrs. R. Wallace and Mrs. H. S. Timberlake. The brief worship period conducted by the president, Mrs. K. O. Wright, was followed by piano selections played by Mrs. John Gough. Eight of the members then assisted the president in presenting the life of John Evans, a Canadian missionary, as the study for the afternoon. Announcement was made that Rev. Hugh McLeod would speak to the group Monday, November 18, at the home of Mrs. Murray Anderson.

The Young Women's Auxiliary of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church met in the lecture hall on Tuesday evening. After the opening prayer, Scripture was read by Mrs. B. Morris, who also gave a talk on "The Best Plan of Life" and "Our Place in the World." Business was discussed and refreshments were served at the close.

Ralston Records Army Promotions

A new medical officer for Military District No. 11 has assumed his duties at Work Point. He is Lieut. Col. R. A. Hughes, formerly stationed at St. John, N.B. In coming here Lieut. Col. Hughes succeeds Lieut. Col. G. C. Kenning of Victoria, who has gone to Regina as medical officer for District 12.

In Ottawa Defence Minister J. L. Ralston announced promotions for four high-ranking army officers.

Brig. F. R. Phelan, deputy adjutant-general at national defence headquarters, becomes deputy adjutant-general at Canadian military headquarters in London, succeeding Maj. Gen. E. W. Sanson who was recently appointed officer commanding the 3rd division.

Brig. C. E. Connolly, officer commanding M.D. 13 (Calgary), becomes officer commanding M.D. No. 6 (Halifax). His successor at Calgary was not announced. Brig. Connolly was assistant adjutant and quarter-master-general in Victoria at one time.

Maj. Gen. C. F. Constantine, of ficer commanding Military District No. 6, becomes officer commanding M.D. No. 2 (Toronto), succeeding Maj. Gen. R. O. Alexander, recently appointed to command the Pacific Army Command.

Col. A. E. Nash, director of organization at headquarters, succeeds Brig. Phelan as deputy adjutant-general at headquarters.

NO HARNESS

Indicating how completely horses have passed out of the picture in the Canadian army a munition department spokesman said the department which is responsible for purchases for Canadian troops had not bought any harness since the war began.

"In a few days, however," he said, "an order for harness will be placed for the forestry corps. This corps will use horses."

VISITS ATLANTIC

Maj. Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, chief of the general staff, will leave Ottawa by air Thursday for a five-day visit to the Atlantic army command.

MAITLAND'S SON IN NAVY

A group of 26 young Canadian University graduates and undergraduates are undergoing preliminary training at the Halifax dockyard as ordinary seamen—training so they will be able to cross the Atlantic to join the Royal Navy. One group of 13 is from B.C.

Three Vancouver boys taking the training are: Stuart Lane, graduate of Dalhousie University law school last year; Johnnie Bird, star fullback on Dalhousie's English rugby team last season, and Robert Maitland, who finished his first law year last spring. Maitland is the son of Hon. R. L. Maitland, K.C., leader of the British Columbia Conservative Party.

Saanchi Briefs

No Action Yet on Library Question

Saanich Council last night decided to wait until there was more agitation on the part of residents on the library question before any action was taken in drafting a referendum to get the feeling of ratepayers on the matter. It was explained that only one person had petitioned the council for a referendum thus far.

Councillors George Austin and J. Oliver and Reeve A. G. Lambick will form the court of revision. The court will sit at 10 in the morning on November 15.

A report was read from the treasurer showing that approximately $30,000 was available for investment. It was left in the hands of the finance committee to be invested.

It was decided to hand the matter of purchasing a new motor grader for public works over to the incoming council. A machine of the type desired, bids showed, would cost around $8,400.

The sum of $5.25 was voted F. C. Michell, East Saanich Road, to compensate him for seven wyandotte pullets killed by dogs.

Final reading was given the amended by-law relating to garages and regulating public and other garages in the interest of fire protection and public safety.

The council approved a recommendation from Dr. G. F. Amyot, provincial medical health officer, that Dr. J. L. Gayton, Saanich health officer, be granted permission to inspect school children in the Model School during the absence of Dr. Anderson on war duties, also that Dr. Gayton inspect the Normal School students during the summer months, the corporation of Saanich to be reimbursed by the Provincial Board of Health for both services.

Eric Porter and George Florence, both married, were appointed as firemen for the municipality. Three applied for the positions. The new fire fighters will report for duty on November 1 and will be on six months' probation.

Saanchi Sanitary Conditions Scored

The age-old problem of how to bring about an improvement in sanitary conditions in homes of Saanich residents, in particular shacks occupied by Chinese, came up for discussion again last night at the Saanich Council meeting.

The municipality has a by-law which demands certain sanitary arrangements in homes, but according to discussion the regulations are not very widely adhered to.

"Something has got to be done about this. It's getting to be a serious problem," said Reeve A. G. Lambick.

No definite action was taken but it was finally decided that the health committee would get together and discuss the problem and bring in a report as to the best method of rectifying the condition.

While Chinese were referred to as chief offenders, councillors pointed out there were other places in the municipality not occupied by Orientals where the same conditions existed. Cordova Bay received prominent mention in this regard.

It was generally agreed that in a municipality like Saanich it would be difficult to enforce the regulations to the letter as many homes were not in the water area—but councillors expressed the opinion that at least sanitary arrangements should be made to the satisfaction of the sanitary inspector.

A suggestion of the reeve's was that septic tanks or proper flush toilets be installed wherever possible in the water area.

In cases where homes were rented should occupants or landlords pay sanitary system bill? was a question asked. Councillor George Austin thought the landlord should. Some people at Cordova Bay, he said, were paying as much as $40 a month rent for small homes, the high rental being imposed due to the crowded condition of the city at the present time. Landlords getting that kind of rent could afford to handle sanitary costs.

Many problems would have to be ironed out before action was started on the matter, the council agreed, and therefore decided to

COURT OF APPEAL COMPLETES LIST

The Court of Appeal yesterday reserved judgment on the appeal of James et al. vs. McLennan, McFeely and Prior Ltd., drawing its Victoria sitting to a close with that case.

The hearing extended over four days, with C. L. McAlpine, K.C., appearing for the appellant, and Douglas Brown for the respondent. The appeal arose from the plaintiff-appellant's dissatisfaction with the award of damages. During the Victoria sitting 25 appeals were handled, 18 criminal and seven civil.

Duncan

Under the auspices of the Cowichan Chapter, Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, a successful tea was held in St. Edward's Hall on Monday. It being Trafalgar Day, the hall was decorated with suitable trophies, and a model of the "Victoria" was on display. A musical program, arranged by Miss L. Monk, who also acted as accompanist, consisted of piano selections by Miss Monk, vocal solos by Mrs. Houston, monologues by Mrs. A. F. Lloyd, and a song by Elsie Lloyd, "The Lads in Navy Blue," followed by the dancing of the Sailors Hornpipe by Dorothy Bousall and Elsie Lloyd. Mrs. N. E. Suddaby, regent of the chapter, had supervision. Mrs. Deykin and Mrs. Prest had charge of the cooked food stall. Mrs. H. L. Whittaker had on view some of the knitted garments made by the members and garments for refugees and also sold novelties of her own making. Mrs. J. Greig sold tickets. Mrs. Bisset had charge of the competitions, assisted by Mrs. Eggleton, and tea arrangements were in the hands of Mrs. G. W. Bisset, assisted by Mesdames Davis, F. W. Baddeley, A. J. McLean, J. Anderson, A. R. Mann, J. G. Hannigan, S. McHaffie, J. K. McMillan, and others. Proceeds of the affair are for the chapter's war work.

Two unaccompanied duets displayed many beautiful qualities in both voices. They were: Thomas Morley's (arranged by Ed. Fellowes), "April Is My Mistress' Face," and "It Was a Lover and His Lass."

Throughout the program Norma Abernethy lent sympathetic support at the piano. The Victoria Musical Arts Society is to be thanked for presenting this pair, thus aiding the war work of the Red Cross.

A verdict of not guilty was returned on Joe Kam, Chinese charged with illegal possession of opium on August 24, at the completion of his second Assize Court trial yesterday.

The jury retired at 5.12 and returned with the verdict at 5.49. Mr. Justice Sidney A. Smith ordered the prisoner discharged. Herbert W. Davey and J. B. Clearhugh, K.C., conducted the case for the crown, while J. S. Brandon represented Joe Kam.

The first trial resulted in a jury disagreement.

THE WEATHER

VICTORIA, 3 a.m. today—A deep depression is centered west of the Queen Charlotte Islands and pressure is relatively high east of the Canadian Rockies. The weather has been unsettled and mild throughout the province with high winds and rain on the coast. It continues mild over the interior province.

Chicago (AP)—An injection of pure ethyl (beverage) alcohol into the neck to cure the pain of angina pectoris, one of the serious forms of heart disease, was described to the American College of Surgeons here yesterday.

Dr. Samuel Perlow of Chicago said the alcohol injections had given complete relief in 40 per cent of the cases tried, and partial relief in another 35 per cent.

The alcohol is injected into one of two main nerves which automatically control contraction of arteries that serve the heart muscles. It does not go directly into the nerve, but into ganglia, which are relay centres in nerves. The treatment is virtually painless.

This frequently ends the heart pain for a week to six months. When pain returns, a second shot of alcohol is given and this is usually enough to end the pain for the fortunate 40 per cent.

The theoretical explanation is that the nerve is sufficiently destroyed so it cannot cause the heart muscle arteries to contract any more. Spasms of contraction in these coronary arteries are presumed to be the reason for angina pectoris.

Duettists Give Nice Program

Viola Morris and Victoria Anderson, well-trained singers, who have specialized in the art of the duet, gave pleasure to a fair-sized audience in Metropolitan United Church last night, with proceeds going to the Red Cross Society.

It was a happy evening these two really charming singers gave, with a generous program of song. They were enthusiastically endorsed by many of Victoria's leading musicians.

Last summer these two singers appeared before the summer school, and in the audience last night were many teachers who heard them then, anxious to again enjoy the pleasure of such a musical treat.

There were three groups of duets on the program, and Miss Morris, soprano, and Miss Anderson, contralto, each gave one group as solos.

These two fine voices blended beautifully, were exquisitely shaded, chiefly in "Come, Let Us All a-Maying Go," from Handel's great work "Semele." Mozart was represented on the program with "When Spring With Its Joy and Laughter," from "Bastien and Bastienne," Schumann, Brahms and Mendelssohn, too, were nicely interpreted with "Pluck Ye Roses," "Lullaby" and "I Would That My Love." This group was most happy.

Two unaccompanied duets displayed many beautiful qualities in both voices. They were: Thomas Morley's (arranged by Ed. Fellowes), "April Is My Mistress' Face," and "It Was a Lover and His Lass."

Throughout the program Norma Abernethy lent sympathetic support at the piano.

The Victoria Musical Arts Society is to be thanked for presenting this pair, thus aiding the war work of the Red Cross.

Letters to the Editor

BOOKS FOR MILITARY CAMPS

To the Editor:—On several occasions in the past you very kindly have published appeals from me for donations of books, magazines, playing cards, etc., for men in military camps; and these appeals have met with a very generous response from our citizens.

In view of the large and rapidly increasing number of men in camp at the present time, a very large quantity of appropriate material for the men's use during the fall and winter seasons would be most acceptable and very much appreciated.

I therefore wish to make another appeal to the public in this regard, and to say that if those interested will be good enough to leave suitable gifts at the city clerk's office, City Hall, it will be my privilege and pleasure to see that they are distributed at regular intervals to the various training camps in the district.

JOHN A. WORTHINGTON, Alderman, 247 Government Street.

"JANE PLANE FUND"

To the Editor:—I have started a fund, known as the "Jane Plane Fund," for the purpose of raising money to purchase a "Plane for the Royal Canadian Air Force."

May I solicit your help in contacting every woman in Canada bearing the name of Jane who would like to contribute toward the purchase of a "plane for the R.C.A.F." Some women not named Jane might like to contribute to this fund in memory of a departed relative or friend, and if so, all such contributions will be gratefully received.

The following is a copy of a special dispatch which appeared in the Regina Leader-Post on October 1 last:

"JANE PLANE CALLING ALL PLAIN JAMES"

"All the plain James in Canada can now send donations to the Jane Plane Fund," says Mrs. Jane Adeline Porter, wife of Dr. Thomas H. Porter, Cadillac, Sask.

Mrs. Porter has taken all the initial steps, has official receipt forms, and her work for the next few weeks will be to interest every woman bearing the name of Jane in Canada to contribute to buy a plane for the R.C.A.F.

"Dr. and Mrs. Porter have been in Cadillac since 1913, where the doctor has a large practice. They have three children: Dr. James A. Porter, St. Boniface, Man.; William Page Porter, B.Sc., an electrical engineer, employed at Norment, Quebec, and a daughter, Mrs. I. E. Wood, Minneapolis, a medical technician and X-ray expert."

Every donation will be acknowledged on an official receipt, and all funds received will be turned over to the Receiver General of Canada. (MRS.) JANE ADELINE PORTER, Sponsor, Cadillac, Sask.

TAXES AND OTHER THINGS IN ALBERTA

To the Editor:—A letter signed by Walter Scott and appearing in your paper on September 14 has been brought to my attention. To eradicate any false impression which may have been created in the minds of your readers, it is necessary to point out that the only tax increase on the people as distinct from corporations effected by the Alberta government in Alberta has been in the Social Service Tax which was raised one mill from two mills to three mills—an increase of 1-10 of 1 per cent. This money is spent on greatly expanded health services in rural areas. Reformation of Alberta's school system, levied off the taxes collected in the reorganized school districts so that some tax payers pay more and some less taxes than paid under the previous system, but the result has been a remarkable saving to the taxpayers as a whole.

At the request of the organized workers concerned, the Alberta government established a system of codes for some trades which, by majority votes, agreed to certain sales of fees collected by the government to defray the cost of administering the codes—ment schemes. And yet an ever-changing London has persistently persisted. Dazzling modern buildings have been absorbed, and in course of a very few years, typical of the Thames-side city of 1,000 years and more.

In a very real sense there'll always be London, as well as Londoners, whose indomitable spirit and incorrigible optimism under unexampled trying conditions have been a world-wonder.

Bricks and mortar, however time-honored; masonry however cunningly wrought by master craftsmen of past centuries, do not, after all, count for everything, however outrageous to the aesthetic sense their destruction may appear.

If the spirit of the Londoner and other splendidly courageous inhabitants of the British Isles had been cowed and broken, and the much-vaunted and heralded invasion of the Mo-hr Land were an established fact. If German troops had goose-stepped—as their braggart manner is—up the Mall to Buckingham Palace; of what avail the preservation of monuments in stone, however precious, when no longer could we sing with truth, "Rule, Britannia," or proudly boast that never would Britons be slaves? If under such humiliating conditions London had been saved, as was Paris, which contingency would one rather choose?

To that soul-searching question, there could, I think, be but one answer.

The impoverished East End, on either side of the river, searching among wreckage for some treasured household god, or, with gritted teeth, seated upon a heap of rubble, once a home before the bomb had destroyed it, came huddling from the debris above his head, has shown the world something much more worth pondering over than demolished buildings, however time-honored; shrines, however precious.

For Londoners have raised a monument that never can be demolished; something written indelibly in the chequered history of upward and onward struggling humanity that will prove an inspiration to those coming after us, as long as the human race endures and the human spirit remains unquenched.

This, in itself, is Victory.

ARTHUR WARREN.

Oak Bay Officer in Police Class

TORONTO (CP)—Veteran policemen are learning their business all over again in the special courses in Royal Canadian Air Force Service police work here.

In the course under way now, there is W. H. Douglas, on the Oak Bay, B.C., force for 15 years, S. A. Dunbrack, with the Vancouver city police for two and a half years, a man who served as police chief of a small Alberta town until recently, and W. E. Cargin, with 17 years' experience as a police officer.

A single chemical company in the United States last year bought over 274,000,000 pounds of farm products for use in manufactures.

Bread is now standardized to four sizes for sale in England.

"I'm my own Boss"

Could I enjoy my food, my work or my tobacco any better with a tight white collar around my neck? No, I know what I like! I like being my own boss, in the open air, with the changes that farming brings in every season. But I like the same tobacco year in and year out, the tobacco that I can smoke and enjoy all day and every day. I've tried 'em all and you can take it from me that, for all 'round smoking pleasure, there is no other tobacco just like Old Chum.

EXPEDITIONARY FORCE MESSAGES*

FOR AS LITTLE AS 60¢

Once more "Imperial Cables" inaugurates a new fast cable service to bring the peoples of the British Empire closer together.

This service, EFM (Expeditionary Force Messages), is available to and from all members of the Canadian Army and Air Force serving overseas, as well as other members of the Empire fighting services in Canada.

Obvious difficulties exist in the prompt delivery of messages addressed to Naval Forces and those, for the present, are not allowed.

In 1938 "Imperial Cables," in co-operation with Canadian Pacific Telephones, established a new Empire-wide fast cable service. Early in 1940 Social Letter Telegrams (S.L.T.) were inaugurated to provide a social greeting service at low rates. Now comes the EFM. These three events are typical of the services rendered the Empire by the cable and wireless facilities of this British owned and British operated communication system with world-wide connections.

Telephone your Message

Any C.P.R. telephone office will take your message on the telephone. Instruct the operator to route it "Via Imperial." No longer need you say "I'd love to cable, but I can't afford it."

C.A.T.S. Get Ready For War Service

TORONTO (CP)—Smartly costumed, in their air-force-blue uniforms, hundreds of women in the Canadian Auxiliary Territorial Service in various parts of Canada are turning out for drills and classes these evenings — just in case.

There's little fooling among these women. Most of them spend their days in business but two or three evenings a week they attend drill, take thorough-going classes in first aid, motor mechanics, telegraphy and air raid precaution work.

They mean business and are prepared to serve wherever and whenever the government decides they can be useful. Some are already doing volunteer work regularly, looking after the offices of the Veterans' Guard and operating switchboards in some places.

The C.A.T.S., or "cats" as they even term themselves, originated in Toronto a few months ago but are rapidly expanding to other provinces, and have units in formation in 22 centres at the moment with an enrolment of around 3,000. These centres include Regina, Ottawa, Winnipeg and St. Catharines. The Toronto unit has 800 members.

Miss Ivy Maizon, Toronto advertising writer, who founded the organization, said the promoters were carefully avoiding duplication of effort with any other women's organization. In the maritimes and British Columbia, where there are already Women's Service Corps, with similar objectives, the C.A.T.S. will not establish branches.

ON ENGLISH PATTERN

The new organization, whose objectives are patterned closely on those of the Auxiliary Territorial Service doing yeoman service during England's air raids, at present have no official connection with the British organization nor have they been officially endorsed by the Canadian government. However, the government is constantly apprised of their progress and they hope to get recognition in the near future.

The C.A.T.S. includes a cross-section of Canada's womanhood, but the majority are young business women devoting their spare hours to a course of stiff training. Membership is restricted to women of British birth and parentage, from 20 to 45 years of age. They buy their own uniforms and pay no dues. The uniforms are of weather-proof cloth and consist of straight skirt and tunic, forage cap and trench-coat.

Every night in the week some sections are taking courses. One night a week the members turn out for military drill under a veterans' guard instructor. Other nights are given to elementary and advanced first aid, mechanics, kitchen and canteen work instruction.

There are no commissions in the organization — at least, not yet. There are N.C.O.'s, however, and these drill an extra night a week.

The women may take rifle practice if they wish but it is not emphasized. Miss Maizon considers the members can be more useful in the other fields.

Military as the organization sounds, and practical as it aims to be, it does not forego the feminine.

"If we see shiny noses, the girls are told to powder them," says Miss Maizon, "but not to excess."

26 Reindeer At Seattle Eastbound

SEATTLE (AP)—A herd of 26 Alaska reindeer — guaranteed genuine Alaska moose-burners — spent a first restless night in the "southernland" here, awaiting a special express car ride eastward tonight.

With a native Eskimo riding herd, the animals came south on the steamship Mount McKinley for shipment to the Lake Placid estate of Dr. Philip G. Cole of New York City.

The two-year-olds, on their first trip outside Alaska, made a 2,500-mile journey from Golovin, near Nome. Five hundred bags of reindeer moss, which to the reindeer is as tempting as bologna to a Dutchman, was brought along for the animals.

Carl Lomen, member of the owning firm, said the moss wouldn't last long, but by that time the animals would be weaned to a good old barnyard diet.

Robberies in Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—City police combed the city today for two men whom Mrs. Ann Malone reported attached her just after she alighted from a street car on her way home last night, knocked her to the ground and snatched her purse, containing $500 in cash. Alexander B. Svarick said a low gunman entered McLachlan Motors, where he is attendant, early today, threatened him with a gun and took $30 from the cash register.

Prime Minister King Inspects Men Who Are Defending Canada's Atlantic Coast

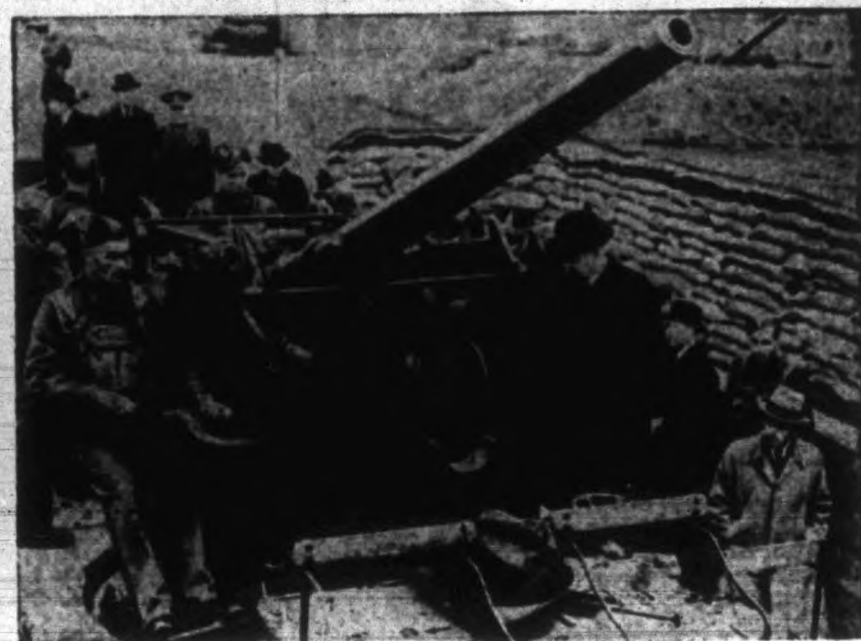

First spectacle the Prime Minister saw on arrival at the Atlantic station was morning "divisions" and the march past of thousands of Canadian sailors recruited from every section of the nation.

Prime Minister King congratulates the officers and men of Canada's navy on their work. Here he greets the officers of a destroyer. The Prime Minister, during his visit, inspected a guard of honor composed of officers in training representing the nine provinces and the Yukon. B.C.'s representative was Lieut. E. F. Fox of Victoria. Lieut. Leigh Spencer, also well known here, represented Alberta. Lieut. A. Jeckell, formerly attached to the Naval College in Victoria, represented the Yukon.

Mr. King met the commanding officer of the Atlantic station, Commodore G. C. Jones, who has been on this station several times. He visited the men who saw action at Dunkerque and in the North Sea, the new buildings and repair shops, the gunnery school, the torpedo, mines and electrical schools, and all the manifold activities of a great naval station in wartime.

From early morning until well after dark, Mr. King traveled about the great naval defence station at Halifax. He visited destroyers, talked to officers and men, and went through all the buildings ashore where the work of keeping Canada's navy fitted and equipped goes on. Here he watches the operation of one of our anti-aircraft guns.

OVER 500 MILES AN HOUR—The newest U.S. plane, which is reported to be the fastest military plane in the world, the Lockheed P-38, is shown on its first flight. Piloted by Lockheed's chief test pilot, Marshall Headle, the interceptor-pursuit job did more than 500 miles an hour. It is a low-wing all metal single place monoplane with tricycle landing gear. It has two 12-cylinder Allison engines which develop 1,150 horsepower. The two propellers rotate in opposite directions.

Canadian Women Prepare for Any Eventuality

If the day should ever come when Canadian women will be needed as an auxiliary to the R.C.A.F.—there is such a branch of the R.A.F. in Britain—these Halifax women will be ready. In snappy uniforms they are spending most of their spare hours every week learning the ropes in this business of flying. At left, Flight-Lieut. Weatherwax demonstrates aerial manoeuvres on a blackboard map to the ladies, while at right they are shown the installation of the motor in a plane by Sergt. R. Geddes.

It was a British Spitfire Terrier that got on the tail of this German Messerschmitt 109, and caused it to crash on British soil. But even so, the invading plane was not yet done with Terriers. This one is named Doodles, poking his head from the plane after inspecting the damage that his namesake had wrought.

MENTIONED IN DESPATCHES—Surgeon-Lieut. T. B. McLean of the R.C.N.V.R. has been cited for meritorious service. He was wounded during the sinking of the Canadian destroyer Fraser and is now serving aboard the new destroyer Margaree. As an ordinary seaman he trained at Edmonton and received his commission when war broke out.

LEADS U.S. EAGLE—Commanding officer of the "Eagle Squadron," new R.A.F. fighter squadron composed exclusively of pilots from the United States, is Squadron Leader W. E. G. Taylor of New York. A volunteer since the outbreak of war, he was formerly in the U.S. naval air corps. Here he wears both R.A.F. and "Eagle" badges.

START ALONG LAST MILE—Martin (Bugsy) Goldstein (right) cursed and shouted, and Harry (Pittsburgh Phil) Strauss threw his shoe at a bystander as they left New York for Sing Sing, where they will die for the killing of Irving (Pugger) Feinstein. The two members of "Murder Inc." were sentenced after a trial during which Goldstein denounced judge, jury and the "rats" who gave perjured testimony.

FLYING LESSONS RATHER THAN NEW FALL HATS—Swinging the propeller of a training plane at Toronto Island airport is Charlotte Potter, one of 25 girls taking ground school and flying lessons in preparation for commercial jobs if a shortage of male pilots develops. Organizer and instructor is Helen Harrison, also shown, ex-air force instructor in South Africa and St. Catharines, who has 2,000 hours to her credit. Eleanor Ferguson (second left), stenographer, told her mother she was attending the school, but made it clear she hadn't done any flying yet. Others in group right are, from left: Corrine Collingwood, Charlotte Potter and Mabel Maxwell. A school teacher at Port Credit, Miss Maxwell says, "You can't buy new clothes and fly too."

NEW SPEED LIMIT PROPOSED FOR B.C.

Enactment of a speed limit on the open highways of British Columbia will be suggested at the forthcoming session of the Legislature by Attorney-General Gordon Wismer.

The Attorney-General said today that steps must be taken to curb the mounting toll of highway accidents which have shown a 20 per cent increase this year.

At present British Columbia has no set speed limit on the open highway. Traffic speeds are regulated by the general dangerous driving code. In certain danger zones speeds are controlled to special limits by signs.

In towns and villages the general speed limit is 30 miles an hour. This was enacted at Mr. Wismer's instigation three years ago. At that time however members of the House were not favorable to imposing a 40-mile-an-hour speed limit on country highways.

The Attorney-General said, however, he thought members should reconsider the question this year. Police records over a period of years indicate that speed is one of the main factors not only in the cause of accidents, but in the degree of loss of life and damage resulting.

BOY'S FACE BURNT WHEN GAS IGNITES

Six-year-old Ralph Extrom was badly burned about the face yesterday in an accident at his Keating home, Saanich. He is in St. Joseph's Hospital and was reported resting more comfortably today.

According to the Saanich police report the lad struck either a match or a lighter to peer into an empty gasoline drum. There was enough gas in the tank to produce fumes, which caught on fire and caught the youth full in the face.

He was taken to hospital by Chief Josiah Bull of Saanich. The chief today appealed to all parents to keep oil or gas drums, full or empty, out of the reach of their children, in an effort to prevent similar accidents.

"They are dangerous things to leave around," he said.

A report on the work of the Travelers Aid and Welfare Department of the Y.W.C.A. was on file today at the City Hall for consideration by the council at its next session. The report stated 273 vessels had been met from April 1 to August 31, 249 cases involving 458 persons had been handled and 387 interviews conducted with transients. Information had been given to 743 contacts, the report added.

TOWN TOPICS

Next Monday at 8 in the evening in the lecture room of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, the Young People's Society will hold a Halloween social in the form of a masquerade.

A young lady was attacked by an unknown man while walking on Humboldt Street last night at 8.15, according to a city police report. The woman told police the man struck her from behind and when she screamed he ran away.

St. John Ambulance women volunteers who are practicing under the direction of Mrs. E. G. Thorne are asked to meet Thursday evening at 8 in the basement of the Hotel Douglas, entering from the Pandora Street entrance.

On Sunday after the church service the Young People's Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church will hold a song service in the lecture room of the church. All young people and men on active service are welcome.

Wesley Riley, Vancouver, suffering from a cut on the head when he fell from a boxcar at the Canadian Western Co-operative Limited, was taken to Jubilee Hospital for treatment in the police patrol by Constables Wally Andrews and Tommy Stevenson this afternoon at 2. His wound was not serious. He was not an employee of the company.

Soe Jack Kee was on the witness stand under cross-examination on his defence against a charge of illegal possession of opium on August 24 when the Assize Court adjourned for lunch today. The case for the Crown was completed by H. W. Davey during the morning. The trial is being conducted before Mr. Justice Sidney A. Smith and a jury, with Frank Higgins, K.C., as defence counsel.

He had, he said, dealt with the situation as it existed, not as it might have been had the original system been developed with occult powers capable of seeing 40 years ahead.

Mr. Shaw attacked Mr. Blandy's statements on engineering questions, stating some of them had been proved to have been made without the benefit of engineering advice. He attacked the Oak Bay valuation of the water system property and the municipality's efforts to reduce its worth to a minimum. Actually, the city solicitor added, much of the property had increased in value in recent years.

Mr. Blandy's figure of $5,000 for a "useless" survey of Leech River was purely a guess, he declared.

Reading the refunding act, Mr. Shaw repudiated Oak Bay's arguments that the city's refunding scheme had been put through to relieve the water system financing and quoted a letter from Jules Fortin to the effect that the scheme called for continued charges for water on pre-refunding scales.

Replying to Oak Bay's contention of over-expenditure on the purchase of the Goldstream system, Mr. Shaw stated the city had had to take the whole system, or none of it, at a cost of $1,450,000. Dealing with Oak Bay's deductions from cost estimates on the system, he said Mr. Blandy could hardly refer to figures as those of the city when a sum of $405,236 had been subtracted by Mr. Blandy.

He defended salaries of water works engineers and costs of water testing challenged by Oak Bay.

Referring to Smith's Hill reservoir, which Mr. Blandy had contended was of no value to Oak Bay, Mr. Shaw stated Smith's Hill supply had been used in a recent emergency to such good effect that Oak Bay was not aware its supply had been switched from its regular main.

Oak Bay's contention that siphon repairs on the flow line should be charged to depreciation instead of maintenance was faulty in that Oak Bay had over-estimated by three times the life of such siphons, Mr. Shaw said. If depreciation alone were charged, the fund to retire water works debt would be deficient when payment fell due.

He challenged Mr. Blandy's allegation Victoria derived great taxation benefits to offset the cheap water it allowed the Sidney Roofing and Paper Company. Such taxes were absorbed in services to the concern, Mr. Shaw said.

He answered Oak Bay's golf course argument, admitting the two courses in Oak Bay were of community value, but noting that taxes were paid to Oak Bay by the courses for virtually no services.

Oak Bay, he added, could not honestly claim inclusion of the Sidney Roofing Company's water consumption in the divisor used in setting a rate. If it were included and the consumption by the firm was doubled, Oak Bay's

Oak Bay Saving On City's Water System Says Shaw

If Oak Bay were given free water at Japan Gulch, the nearest point from which it could be taken to provide adequate pressure for the municipality, the cost to Oak Bay would be 17.9 cents per 1,000 gallons, F. L. Shaw, city solicitor, stated in reply to Oak Bay monopoly charges against the city as the water dispute hearing continued before the Public Utilities Commission today.

Oak Bay, in its case and reply, had suggested an equitable rate to be charged by the city should be approximately four cents per 1,000 gallons.

The hearing adjourned at noon today with completion of Mr. Shaw's reply. This afternoon R. F. Blandy is answering certain points raised by Mr. Shaw, and Victoria and Oak Bay engineers will present a report on the need or otherwise for the 20-inch main and Smith's Hill reservoir to the Oak Bay system.

Mr. Shaw attacked Mr. Blandy's action in exceeding legitimate criticism of the city by charging "padding," "artificial elements," "absurd proposals," "inflation" and "attempts to deceive" and with referring to staff members as "grasping city officials" and "predatory profiteers at the City Hall."

Mr. Blandy, the city solicitor continued, appeared to think the Public Utilities Commission was appointed simply to strike low rates. Irrespective of circumstances, Mr. Shaw remarked such a position was contrary to the purpose of the commission before which he had sought to lay the city's case on matters of fact only.

He had, he said, dealt with the situation as it existed, not as it might have been had the original system been developed with occult powers capable of seeing 40 years ahead.

Oak Bay, he added, could not honestly claim inclusion of the Sidney Roofing Company's water consumption in the divisor used in setting a rate. If it were included and the consumption by the firm was doubled, Oak Bay's rate would be reduced extensively without that municipality increasing its consumption.

He dealt briefly with monopoly charges against the city, contending the monopoly had been definitely to the benefit of Oak Bay.

A submission covering 10 points to be considered in rate-fixing was read by Mr. Shaw on the basis of previous argument.

FORMER REEVE QUOTED

In respect to Oak Bay's claim, it should not be billed in connection with costs of the 20-inch supply main constructed in 1930 to serve the district, he quoted Herbert Anson, former reeve of the municipality, who in 1927 announced the need for a new supply main from the Fountain Square. At the same time Reeve Anson had stated Oak Bay "had won a victory" in securing a 7.8 cent rate per 1,000 gallons for water.

Costs of a new supply main "would have increased the rate nearly 3 cents and Oak Bay would feel no ill effects on that account," Mr. Shaw added, quoting Mr. Anson on the latter point.

The city solicitor submitted figures on water consumption this year to date and presented documents in regard to city claims against the B.C. Electric for damage to mains through electrolysis. The latter matter was still in dispute and the full repair bill, had not been paid by the company, he said.

Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman of the commission, suggested such charges might reasonably be considered as cost in the city's computations.

B.C. Car Trade Shows Increase

British Columbians are buying more cars than they have for several years despite wartime conditions.

Provincial motor license figures up to the end of September show an increase from 5,583 to 5,868, about 5 per cent in the number of new cars licensed in the first seven months of the license year.

In the same period the total of license transfers, which indicated the second-hand car trade, increased from 39,256 to 44,641, a gain of 13 per cent.

With 119,142 cars—both passenger and commercial—licensed on the highways as compared with 113,614 last year the number of people licensed to drive has increased from 141,262 to 147,867.

5 Chinese Charged

Lee June, Tom Choy, Joe Kam, Lum W. h and Chow How Chong were charged jointly in City Police Court this morning with being unlawfully in possession of opium, contrary to the Narcotics Act.

The five were arrested last night by R.C.M.P. officers. They were remanded until tomorrow to enable them to secure counsel. Pleas were reserved.

Magistrate H. C. Hall placed bail of $3,000 in each case, with a provision allowing them to make application for less bail.

London Gets Buses

LONDON (CP)—The Ministry of Transport today ordered 2,000 auto buses from provincial cities brought to London to help solve the traffic problems of the capital.

The ministry also announced an approximate 6 per cent increase in railway fares, excepting on season and workers' tickets. A 10 per cent increase was made on Sunday.

Dud Nazi Bombs

WINNIPEG—Nazi delayed action bombs contain a large percentage of duds, but Royal Air Force bombs go off every time, Capt. A. E. Gardner of Calgary, inspecting ordnance officer for western Canada, said in an interview here. Britain would not manufacture delayed action bombs because they were not 100 per cent efficient.

Details Smashing Of Invasion Ports

LONDON (AP)—From reports received by reliable sources in London it is evident that widespread damage has been done to the invasion ports, the Air Ministry said tonight.

"At Dunkerque, for instance, the quay between the two main docks, a large four-bay building and another building parallel to it were leveled to the ground," the ministry said.

"At Brest attacks on the arsenal and airframes proved equally successful."

"At Calais it is known buildings at the southeast end of the dock have been destroyed by fire, that the east side docks have been damaged and that the lock between the inner basin and the

JONES — Thomas Jones, 1166 View Street, a former Dominion director of the Army and Navy Veterans and a past president of the Victoria branch, died yesterday at St. Joseph's Hospital, aged 74. Mr. Jones was born in Birkhead, England, and resided in Calgary prior to coming to Victoria 28 years ago. He enlisted with the 88th Battalion, C.E.F., and served in France with the Jones Bros. Service Station, Yates Street. Funeral service will be held at McCall Bros. on Friday afternoon at 2. Rev. Dr. A. E. Whitehouse will officiate; interment at Royal Oak.

CAMPBELL—Douglas Fletcher Campbell, 63 San Jose Avenue, died yesterday at St. Joseph's Hospital in his 35th year. He was born in Waterford, Ontario, and came here four years ago. Funeral will be held from Haywards' B.C. Funeral Chapel on Friday at 2. Interment at Royal Oak.

FENING—The funeral of Edward Fenning of 516 Constance Avenue, Esquimalt, who died on Sunday at St. Joseph's Hospital at the age of 61, took place yesterday afternoon from Sands Mortuary. Representatives from the First Canadian Pioneer's Social Club attended. Canon F. A. P. Chadwick officiated, and the remains were cremated at Royal Oak.

McCarthy—Word has been received here of the death in Winnipeg of James H. McCarthy. Following his retirement as chief librarian of Winnipeg, Mr. McCarthy and his wife came here to live from 1928 until late in 1937, when he suffered a serious illness and returned to the Manitoba capital.

KING — Funeral services were held in Toronto yesterday for Cecil Nelson King, former Victorian who died very suddenly there on Saturday last. He was born at Moodyville, B.C., the second son of Mrs. King, Balmoral Road, and the late Paymaster Alfred N. C. King, R.N., and came here as a child, receiving his early education at Boys' Central and Victoria High Schools. He was later manager of Terry's restaurant for many years, following which he moved to eastern Canada for Liggett's Ltd.

Firearm Charge Against W. Money

Wilson Money was charged in City Police Court this morning for having in his possession on October 13 an unregistered firearm, contrary to the Defence of Canada Regulations. He was remanded until tomorrow morning after the court had learned his counsel would likely be available then.

Money is also charged in Victoria and Saanich Police Courts with being in possession of documents containing literature intended or likely to be prejudicial to the safety of the state and efficient prosecution of the war. He has been released on bail on these charges.

Drugs Permitted To Reach French

LONDON (CP)—The Ministry of Economic Warfare announced today it would permit the passage of "strictly pharmaceutical products, drugs and bandages" through the blockade to German occupied countries.

The ministry spokesman said two substantial consignments of insulin had moved through to Switzerland in the last few days. One consignment was for French diabetic children.

The conference of the International Red Cross at Geneva was informed of the decision.

A British scientist says that there is no evidence that zoo animals significantly anticipate aircraft arrival or foresee impact of bombs.

Steals 70 Cents, Gets 3 Months

"It is a deplorable crime to steal money from a newsboy," said Magistrate Henry C. Hall in City Police Court this morning before pronouncing a sentence of three months' hard labor on George Taylor, a man of about 35. The accused was found guilty of a charge of stealing 70 cents from George Hunter, an 11-year-old newsboy who lives at 413 Kingston Street.

The freckle-faced youth testified he was eating an ice cream cone on his way to get some more papers to sell around 6 Monday night, when he was hailed by accused, whom he had met on a previous occasion.

Hunter said Taylor asked him for a bite of his ice cream cone. For that accused said he would give him a nickel. Hunter said accused asked him if he had change for a $1 bill, which he displayed. He said he had only 70 cents in change. Accused told Hunter to give him the 70 cents and he would take him to where his car was parked to get further change.

Witness followed accused to Broughton and was told to wait in a car (which witness said he was sure was not accused's) because he had seen somebody else getting out of it while he went to a club to get change. Hunter waited for three-quarters of an hour and then informed the police.

Under cross-examination by Claude L. Harrison, Taylor maintained he could not remember meeting Hunter on Monday night. In fact he could not remember anything about his Monday actions, except that he had visited several beer parlors.

Magistrate Hall said he was not satisfied with accused's story about his lapse of memory. "You did not deny the boy's story that you stole his money. I find you guilty," he said.

Telford Coming, Asks Better Terms

Mayor W. Telford is coming to Victoria tomorrow at the head of a civic delegation to meet the provincial cabinet at the Parliament Buildings and press for better financial terms for Vancouver.

The "better terms" brief has not been made public but it is understood to include requests for a larger grant and assumption by the provincial government of a bigger share of hospitalization and educational costs.

Included in the delegation will be Alderman John Bennett, chairman of the finance committee; J. W. Cornett, George Buscombe and A. E. Craddock, secretary-manager of the Associated Property Owners.

LONG JOURNEY TO TAKE ONE VOTE

E. M. Whyte, assistant secretary of Victoria Liberal Association, told Ward Two Liberals last night some interesting tales of organizing Liberal associations along the west coast of Vancouver Island.

He traveled by steamer, launch, rowboat, canoe, motorcar, horse and buggy, and on foot in course of his work.

He went back to 1911 for his most amusing reminiscence, describing how he as returning officer and a clerk traveled 60 miles by motor launch and 30 miles on foot on election day to record the vote of the Pachena lighthouse keeper.

There were only three votes cast, the lighthousekeeper's, the clerk's and Mr. Whyte's. The Liberal party got one of them, the Conservatives the other two.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING RATES

For each word per insertion.
Minimum charge, 25c.

First, 10c per insertion.
Second, 8c per insertion.
Third, 6c per insertion and 5c for subsequent insertions.

Special rates for long term contracts and for advertising in the "Times" on a contract basis.

In computing the number of words in an advertisement, count five words for each line of text. This is not an absolute rule, but a guide to the length of the advertisement. The length of the advertisement will be determined by the length of the individual words.

The Times will not be responsible for an advertisement not being received or for an advertisement not being published. The advertiser is responsible for the accuracy of the information given in the advertisement. The Times will not be responsible for the loss of an advertisement or for the loss of a copy of the Times.

Advertisements which are not received by the Times office on the day before the day of publication will not be published. A charge of 10c is made for the service.

Subscribers wishing their address changed should notify this office as well as the carrier. If your Times is missing, please call 1232 between 1 p.m. and 4 p.m. and a copy will be sent by special messenger.

Death in the Skies

These unusual pictures tell the story of a freak crash in Marianna, Ark., as a plane from an air show tangles with a parachute and crashes to the ground, killing the pilot, four passengers and the jumper. Carrying a load of four passengers in his plane, Pilot George Zore, 27, approaches the parachute 500 feet in the air (top). Five seconds later, having become entangled in the chute's shrouds, the plane plummets to earth, the parachute billowing around the fuselage (right). Ends to the story is shown in the scattered wreckage of the plane, partially buried in the soft earth (lower). (Acme Telephotos.)

Rush Assembly of Arvo Ansons in Canada

Hundreds of twin-engine Arvo Anson bomber trainers are being assembled at a plant near Toronto. The machine is being used to train pilots under the Commonwealth Air Training program to handle front-line bombers, and to train observers and gunners. Soon the machine will be produced complete in Canada, with engines com-

'FOUR SONS,' FILM STIRS EMOTIONS

Tense with emotion, 20th Century-Fox's new production, "Four Sons," opened at the Atlas today. The compelling power and the force of the emotional drama moved the audience to agree with preview critics, who have pronounced "Four Sons" "a picture the public must see."

For this deeply moving and powerfully realistic film Producer Darryl F. Zanuck drafted the talents of many outstanding players including: Don Ameche, Eugene Leontovich, Mary Beth Hughes, Alan Curtis, George Ernest and many others who are equally well known.

PLAZA THEATRE
Jon Hall recently added a fourth boat to the "fleet" of vessels he now owns. His latest acquisition is an outrigger canoe which Producer Edward Small has brought back from the South Seas for studio scenes in "South of Pago Pago," now on view at the Plaza Theatre.

Hall already owned a big sailing boat, a speedboat and an outboard speedster. But, after he had paddled around for days in the outrigger canoe, he became so intrigued with it that Producer Small decided to give it to him as a present upon completion of the picture.

CAPITOL THEATRE
Four of Hollywood's best actors, Spencer Tracy, Claudette Colbert, Clark Gable and Hedy Lamarr, are thrilling capacity crowds daily at the Capitol in "Boom Town," the four-star drama of the oil industry.

"Boom Town" is the story of two happy-go-lucky pals, Big John (Gable) and Square John (Tracy), who make themselves a fortune in the oil fields, but who run into complications when Tracy's fiancée, Claudette Colbert, comes west to marry him and is swept off her feet by Gable.

RIO THEATRE
A brilliant star team—Errol Flynn and Bette Davis—are co-starring in "The Sisters," one of the great love stories of all time, adapted from the famous novel by Myron Brin. "The Sisters" is now being shown at the Rio.

R.A.F.'s BLOWS BRINGING VICTORY

LONDON (CP)—There never was a force more challenging to the powers of "the Nazi evil" than Britain's Royal Air Force, Air Under-Secretary Harold Balfour told the Overseas Club at a luncheon today.

Terming the R.A.F. definitely an overseas force, Capt. Balfour pointed out its growing internationalism, saying: "A few days ago the first (Eagle) squadron of volunteers from the United States was formed in this country. Our squadrons daily fight alongside units of Polish, Czech and Free French pilots."

"We can look with confidence on the position we hold today," he added. "The position achieved during the past two months is one of the great victories of the war."

"Our offensive raids into Germany aim at hitting the enemy in their vital military, naval and industrial spots so as to cripple their war effort. The German aim is to break the morale of our civil population."

DOMINION THEATRE
Portraying one of the most colorful roles of her career and earning a well-earned stardom as a result, Lucille Ball enacts the vital role of Tiger Lily
in RKO Radio's scintillating
musical drama offering, "Dance,
Girl, Dance," based on Vicki
Baum's original story.

The brilliant blonde actress,
who is co-starred with Maureen

White Light Contains Various Colors

The other day a nine-year-old boy said to his father: "Oh, daddy, come quick! There are colors on the floor of the living-room!"

The father went to look, and saw red, yellow, blue and other rainbow colors on a certain section of the floor.

Newton's "color disc," which shows white or grey-white, when turned swiftly.

"What do you think these colors are?" he asked.

"Cosmetic rays!" replied the boy.

The little fellow was wrong in two ways. He meant "cosmic," not "cosmetic," and furthermore he was thinking of the wrong kind of rays. Cosmic rays do not produce colors which we can see.

The rays in question were from sunlight. The sun had struck a glass goldfish jar on the window sill in such a way as to separate the light into colors. The same thing sometimes happens at the time of a shower, when sunlight shines through water in the air and produces a rainbow.

Sir Isaac Newton used a glass prism to prove that sunlight contains many colors. Such a prism is a piece of glass with ends of triangle shape.

Light travels by waves, and the waves differ in length, some being much shorter than others. Waves of one length give red color, those of another length blue, and so on.

When white light goes through a prism, the waves are separated. They come out of the glass as special colors.

Rainbows were seen by people long before Newton did his work, but they did not know how to explain the colors. Newton's tests with the prism gave the key to answer the question of how rainbows are made.

A small machine known as "Newton's color disc" can be used to prove that various colors can be turned back to white.

The disc is a wheel with seven colors on its face—red, orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo and violet. A crank is turned so it makes the wheel go round very fast. A person who looks at the fast-moving disc sees white, or whitish grey, instead of the seven colors.

Newton spoke of light as containing "seven colors," and that is true in a rough way. Yet there are many shades of every main color. A carefully-made "color chart" may show 150 colors or more.

HOROSCOPE

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 24

This is an unimportant day in planetary direction, but the morning hours are threatening. Capitalists and bankers are under an ill-omen that seems to indicate criticism and misjudgment.

This is not a fortunate day for women. They should be cautious in their financial affairs. Under this away there may be a tendency to scatter energies and to waste strength in unimportant matters.

This is a profitable rule of the stars for merchandising. Changes in methods of distribution are prognosticated. Elimination of anything unnecessary and supplementary will increase through coming months.

Efforts to break the solidarity of the nations of the western hemisphere, united to prevent aggression, will take on sinister forms.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of good fortune. Romance or courtship, travel and change are indicated.

Children born on this day probably will be determined and self-reliant. They should be taught to avoid pride and arrogance.

Belgian Leaders Arrive in London

LONDON (CP)—Coming to assume direction of the Belgian government which has been set up in the British capital, Premier Robert Floriet and Foreign Minister Paul Henri Spaak arrived in London today.

They came by plane from London, to which they had escaped after the fall of France.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—A young man 26 years old and a young woman 23 years old are very much in love with each other. Her folks complain about his not making much money. His folks object to her because she is not beautiful. These two young people are in the same class of life and are nice, well-behaved persons. They told me about their love affair and that they had no place to meet and I said that they could come to my house any time when I was there, and they think that I am a prince of a fellow. I told them not to let their people break off their affair and not to argue with them about it. Why do parents try to interfere with decent young folks in their love affairs?

ANSWER: Good for you, Doc. You must be a physician of souls as well as of bodies, and there is no telling how much good you have done this young couple, who must need a skilful and tender hand to bind up the wounds their parents have dealt them.

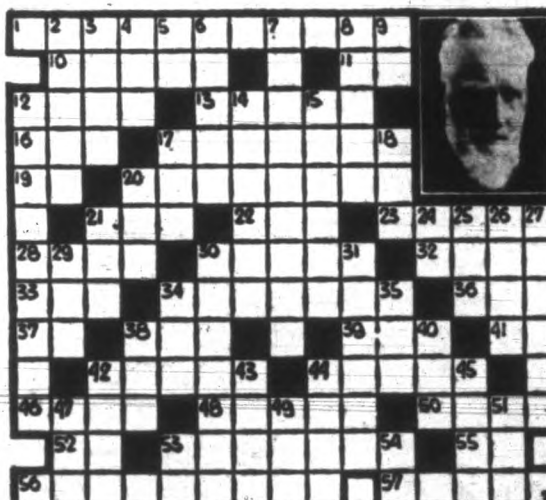

Perhaps your backing them up will make the parents take a kinder and more reasonable view of this unhappy love affair and realize that it is the boy and girl who are going to get married, who have a right to pick out their mates, and that the important thing is for them to be pleased, not their fathers and mothers.

Nobody can explain why otherwise sensible people arrogate to themselves the right to choose their children's mates. For, after all, husbands and wives are merely a matter of taste, and taste is the most individual thing in the world. The very qualities that might be most appealing to a youth and maiden could easily be the most repulsive to their parents.

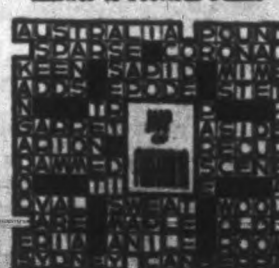

And that is why, if the youngsters select decent girls and boys for husbands and wives, Father and Mother should keep their hands off.

DOROTHY DIX.

PLACE OF ART IN SCHOOLS DISCUSSED

Mr. John Kyle gave a fine address on the place of art on the school curriculum before the Monterey P.T.A. He gave a direct answer to the parent who says that he doesn't want his child to be an artist, by showing that art is in reality the basis of all industry. In every walk of life where the rude materials of nature are brought into being, art is the foundation on which skill and craftsmanship are built, and basic art must be learned when the child is young, he stressed.

"Our present curriculum has expanded to the point where many subjects of this nature may be studied, but, unfortunately, many of our school boards have not taken advantage of the opportunities provided by the Department of Education for the teaching of such subjects."

The membership was reported at 64. Time of the Study Group has been changed to first and third Wednesdays of each month, the next meeting being at the home of Mrs. Harper, corner of Victoria Avenue and McNeill, on Wednesday, October 30. Prevention of the sale of obnoxious literature to children was discussed. Work is being done along this line and it is hoped that progress may be noted in the near future. Miss V. Wood gave piano numbers. Refreshments were served.

RED CROSS JOINS IN CHEST DRIVE

The Canadian Red Cross Society, in conjunction with the Community Chest, will commence its second wartime appeal for funds on November 4 in Victoria and district. The quota for the B.C. division last year was $300,000, this year $500,000 is the amount required, and every cent is urgently needed.

During the year, over 500,000 articles, including soldier comforts, surgical dressings, garments for refugees and blankets were sent overseas. The sum of $171,108 was spent on materials, which were turned into finished supplies by 25,000 voluntary women workers of the 95 Red Cross branches in the province. Twenty-four ambulances were provided from contributions of $42,000 from individuals and organizations to special appeals.

In addition to this the useful peacetime labors of the society were maintained. These include Junior Red Cross work among 1,077 local branches with a membership of 31,000, the management of five outposts hospitals and six first aid stations at dangerous places on the provincial highways.

INTERIOR UNITS

A Red Cross communication from Summerville, B.C., says that Mrs. C. G. Bennett of that town has made over 70 warm suits for small refugee boys in England. Each outfit has 12 hand-made buttonholes, so at least Mrs. Bennett has worked 840 buttonholes.

Alert Bay and district has more than doubled its objective of $2,000 for the Red Cross drive. Of the total amount raised, $4,187.48, the little village of Alert Bay collected $1,775.61 amongst the Indians and whites, this amount being over 200 per cent of its objective of $750.

Word from Windermere, B.C., says that Mrs. Lloyd Taggart has just completed her 100th pair of socks, an average of 12 pairs per month, since she started knitting eight months ago.

Treasurer of Red Cross acknowledges the following donations: Miss E. M. Pirrie, Central Building prize contest, $44.22; Madame De Gribenberg's lecture, collection, $144.76; donations received last week at Superfluity Store, $22.55; Colwood Golf Club, prize money, $43; Cliffside Unit, $5.

BLEEDS TO DEATH

MAYO, Y.T. (CP) — Yukon trappers today mourned the death of one of their comrades, Sven Alfred Swanson, 60, and agreed that simple first aid might have prevented his bleeding to death after he accidentally wounded his hand with a rifle shot October 12.

At the time of the accident Swanson was hiking through the woods five miles from his cabin at the mouth of No Gold Creek. His rifle went off when he picked it up by the barrel, and the bullet gouged the palm and thumb of his left hand, ripping through his jacket but not striking his body.

The rare discovery of jars bearing ancient Arabic letters, the Minusca script used by South Arabia's oldest known commercial people, is reported from buried remains of an inscribed tablet by the Red Sea, occupied a century or two after King Solomon's death.

Movie Star Here Holidaying

Pat O'Brien, the manly actor, arrived in Victoria yesterday to spend a week's holiday. Pat, who was accompanied by his missus, said he had been on a heavy schedule of pictures, having made 47 pictures in seven years for Warner Brothers, and might even extend his visit here. Mrs. Eloise Taylor O'Brien is a clever and pretty motion picture actress and is shown in the above picture with her hubby, whose latest success is "Knut Rockne, All-American."

A Memorable Address

England, America and Liberty

I don't know what England means to you. To some of you perhaps she may be an alien and sinister power. I hope she is not. To many of you who listen, she may bring back memories of the oppression and the injustice and the tyranny of her rulers (but never of her people) in the days that are gone. But whatever have been her failings, whatever her shortcomings, whatever her sins, whatever her iniquities if you like, they will be pardoned when her warfare is accomplished. To some of you, perhaps, she is the paradox of the poet and the adventurer, of the merchant and the crusader, of the eccentric and the formalist, of age and youth, of heresy and orthodoxy, of courage and of mercy. To some of you she may just be a memory of a lovely countryside where order stands rooted in green disorder, of meadows shining in the rain, of bluebells in the woodland, of ancient Gothic churches standing out like truth itself against an English sky.

ENGLAND!

MILESTONES OF HUMAN PROGRESS

It is always an inspiration to be in a meeting of lawyers and to recall the great men of the past, the great states of the past, the great laws of the past, which have formed the very tapestry of our pattern of freedom. The charter of liberty, the Magna Carta, the Habeas Corpus Act, the Bill of Rights, the Declaration of Independence; they are the milestones of human progress. The words of Erskine, of Lincoln, of Jefferson, of Andrew Hamilton—they are the voices of human emancipation. For the law is its majesty and its real grandeur is never on the side of oppression or of violence or of unfairness or murder. In its noblest moods it stands in compassion by the side of the Man with the Hoe, in the cell of the persecuted and by the funeral pyre of the martyr. It stands wherever a man holds his head erect and speaks the truth—that is within him. It stands wherever great souls and minds fight against bigotry and darkness. For the law is the language of freedom and of free men.

WHERE FREEDOM WAS BORN

Freedom was not a North American invention. The patents were taken out years ago by resolute and strong-willed Englishmen. You made it fierce, untameable and living. Today in England I hear the echo of the praise of your own Emerson telling how in the turmoil and tribulation she has a pulse like a cannon and always sees more clearly when the skies are dark. I see her burdened with the honor and honored with the burden of the stewardship of humanity (applause). I marvel at the courage and the wistful optimism that are born of her fields, her lanes, her hills and her valleys. I wonder if you remember a lovely passage in Mary Webb's "Precious Bane" It speaks about an English yeoman, "Kester never said winter, he always said 'summer's sleeping.' He never said 'caterpillars,' he always said, 'there's butterflies as is to be on my cabbages,' and there was never a bud small enough nor sad colored enough that Kester did not see within it the beginning of the blow."

I see England today true to herself "While the loud blasts that test the skies serve but to root her native oak." I believe she knows, and will know, neither age nor weariness nor defeat, and in this City of Liberty, will you permit me to salute her, not in my own words but on the lips of an American woman who wrote 25 years ago with prophetic vein, words that might have been written this very afternoon:

Shatter her beautiful breast ye may; The spirit of England none can slay! Dash the bomb on the dome of Paul's—Doom ye the fame of the Admiral falls? Fry the stone from the chancel floor—Dread ye that Shakespeare shall live no more? Where in the giant shot that kills Wordsworth walking the old green hills? Trample the red rose on the ground—Kismet is beauty while earth spins round! Shatter her, grind her, burn her with fire, Cast her ashes into the sea—She shall escape, she shall aspire.

She shall arise to make men free: She shall arise in a sacred scorn Lighting the lives that are yet unborn: Spirit supernal, Splendour eternal,

For the law is the language of freedom and of free men.

It is a truism that your democracy and ours were built upon the harmony of the Greek concept of liberty and the Roman concept of law. That thing, wrought in primeval strength, is perhaps the greatest gift that the English-speaking peoples have given to the world, as long as we remember, always that without law there can be no liberty and without liberty there can be no law. That gift has been transmuted by the American people into the most sacred of all rights—and I think you have done it with an inspiration, a perseverance and a vision above all others—the right of plain, ordinary simple men and women.

Mr. Lloyd George said the other day that the freedom for which we fight was the right of the Czech to dance around his maypole and the right of every Welshman with a song on his lips or in his heart, to awaken the echoes of his native valley. That is a simple truth and I believe its acceptance can be interpreted as your Divine gift to mankind.

John Buchan, Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor-General of Canada, much loving and much loved, in a chapter of his autobiography just published, which he calls "My America" and which he dedicates with a remarkable insight and deep affection to your nation, says these words: "The

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Ready to Go
The liver should give out two pounds of bile into your blood daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food cannot be digested. It just dumps in the bowels. One blood-cleansing, liver-purifying, and bile-stimulating medicine. You get constipation, flatulence, indigestion, and all the other troubles that come from a sluggish liver. You can get rid of them by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They will stimulate your liver to produce the bile you need. They will also strengthen your blood and give you the pink, healthy complexion that is the sign of a well-functioning liver. They will also give you the energy and vitality that are the result of a healthy liver. They will also give you the peace of mind that comes from knowing that your liver is working properly. They will also give you the long life that is the result of a healthy liver. They will also give you the happiness that comes from knowing that your liver is working properly. They will also give you the love and affection that come from knowing that your liver is working properly. They will also give you the respect and admiration that come from knowing that your liver is working properly. They will also give you the power and influence that come from knowing that your liver is working properly.
